Five U.S. Marines Killed In Battle With China Reds

PEIPING, April 5 —(AP)— Five United States Marines were killed and 16 wounded by armed Chinese in a four-hour battle at a Marine ammunition dump near Tangku today. Chinese military officers said the attackers, whom they identified as Communists, suffered 100 casualties.

Conference Progress Discussed

Bevin, Marshall Map Future Parley Moves

MOSCOW, April 5 —(AP)— Foreign Minister Bevin conferred with State Secretary Marshall for 90 minutes over luncheon at Spaseo House today. They were believed to have discussed the progress of the Council of Foreign Ministers to date, together with possible future moves.

Man Once Again Goes Upstairs To Make Snow

PORTLAND, Ore., April 5 —(AP)—A man went upstairs yesterday to make snow again, this time seeding the clouds like a farmer does his fields and producing a snowfall in a long, straight line.

Col. E. S. Ellison, senior meteorologist of the Portland weather bureau, did the seeding, tossing handfuls of dry ice pellets out of the rear cockpit of an airplane over uninhabited hill country east of here.

This was at 10,000 feet. Then the airplane dived down under the clouds at 4,000 feet, and there was a long slender line of a snowfall extending five to 10 miles directly under the path that Ellison had seeded, he reported on landing.

They followed the flakes down to within 800 feet of the ground, noting that most of them melted as they neared the warm earth, turning into a thin line of rain.

Gold Mine Visited By Royal Family

PRETORIA, April 5 —(Reuters)— The Royal family visited a gold mine at Johannesburg today and descended 8,000 feet to inspect the workings. The party motored from Pretoria, giving up one of their rest days to fulfill the additions to their program ordered by the King when Johannesburg expressed disappointment at the short visit there allotted in the original plan for the Royal tour.

At Second Easter After War

Scarcities, Suffering Still Rule From the Balkans to Britain

LONDON, April 5 —(AP)—Scarcities and suffering are still the rule from the Balkans to Britain in this second Easter season since the war.

HYMNS will be sung tomorrow in some churches still surrounded by bomb ruins.

For most, there won't be eggs for breakfast, let alone for coloring. Chocolate rabbits and lambs will be just luxuries, remembered from happier days before the war.

In all Europe, there is food enough for a pre-war Easter only in agriculturally rich Scandinavian countries.

Britain Drafting Policy on Balkans

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 5 —(AP)—Britain today was drafting policy speech to be made at the United Nations Security Council to keep an investigating committee in the turbulent Balkans but avoid any direct comment on the Truman aid proposals for Greece and Turkey.

BRITISH SOURCES said Sir Alexander Cadogan planned to take the floor at Monday's council meeting, regardless of whether Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, comes forward with his promised comments on Warren R. Austin's American policy address of last week.

America To Share In Ruling World

LONDON, April 5 —(AP)— The Conservative Weekly Spectator said today the Vandenberg proposal to put a United Nations charter on American aid to Greece and Turkey "shows a realization that America is not going to rule the world, but to accept its fair share of the task of ruling."

DOG HELPS BARBER—Every time a small child climbs up on the barber chair, operated by Gord McCormick, of Toronto, "Nipper" hops on the chair to help calm boy's fears and provide a distraction. There are no tears as Bryan Booton, two, shares the barber chair with the dog.

Vessel Missing On Rescue Trip

PARIS, April 5 (Reuters)—There was still no news today of the French ship Poline which left the port of Concarneau, Brittany, in yesterday's storm to answer an SOS signal.

The sea has now become calm along the French Atlantic coast.

The ship she went to rescue managed to limp into Concarneau unaided and without loss of life.

Ten survivors from the crew of the 1,777-ton British steamship Willalode, which sank in the Bay of Biscay with the known loss of six men and six more missing, were receiving treatment in hospital at La Rochelle.

Southampton, England, April 5 (Reuters)—The 20,017-ton Dutch motorship Orange, one of whose crew was killed and three were swept overboard during a storm in the Bay of Biscay, arrived here early today.

British Troops Remain in Greece

MOSCOW, April 5 —(AP)—The newspaper Izvestia asserted today that British troops had not left Greece yet and that "the British military mission is still giving instructions to Greek ministers."

R. Morin, the writer, said this situation was causing considerable puzzlement among the commanding Greek generals, who were worrying over the contemplated presence of two military missions in Greece—American and British.

ON MARCH 21 government sources in London said British would continue some economic and military assistance to Greece until aid from the United States became effective.)

LONDON, April 5 —(AP)—A foreign office spokesman, commenting on an Izvestia report that British officers are directing Greek army activities, said today that a small British military mission will remain in Greece for some time to advise Greek troops guarding the nation's northern border.

Bodies of Airmen Found in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, April 5 (Reuters)—The bodies of Wing Cmdr. B. R. Hoare, Battle of Britain pilot known to his colleagues in the RAF as "Nelson Hoare" because he lost an eye in the Battle of Britain, and Flt. Lt. J. Colvin of London, were found today on Sydney island, off the northern coast of Australia. Discovery of their bodies dashed earlier hopes that they might be safe after being missing for nine days during a flight across Australia's desolate northern territories.

Chiang's Forces Drive On Suiteh

NANKING, April 5 (AP)—Government spearheads advancing from Yenian under cover of warplanes were reported today within a few miles of Suiteh, capture of which government officers said would virtually end the civil war in northern Shensi province.

MILITARY observers said Suiteh, 84 miles northeast of Yenian, fallen Red capital, might be captured within a few days.

The newspaper Hsin Min Pao said Communists were moving supplies into the Shansi-Hopei border, where the Reds were expected to establish mobile headquarters for guerrilla warfare.

Marines Alerted For Japs' Charge

PELELIU, April 5 —(AP)—Marine and naval personnel were put on the alert Friday against a possible banzai charge by 32 Japanese holdouts hiding in the caves of Bloody Nose Ridge on this Pacific island. A Japanese naval rating who surrendered Thursday informed Capt. L. O. Fox, island commander, that the fanatical little band, which has hidden in the hills for more than two years, was discussing such an attack.

Undeclared Conflict Now On

Declares U.S. and Russia To Clash in Third War

AYR, Scotland, April 5 —(Reuters)—The United States and Russia would be the chief protagonists in a coming third world war, Bob Edwards, president of the British Independent Labor party, declared here today at a party conference.

"Their interests, economic and political, challenge each other in many parts of the world and already millions of people and whole nations have accepted the melancholy prospects of the inevitability of the conflict between these two mighty powers within the next 20 years," Edwards said.

Edwards said it was the responsibility of British labor to decide before it was too late how Britain could be kept from becoming involved in the "undeclared war which is now being waged between the United States and Russia."

Weather Delays World Flight

NEWARK, N.J., April 5 —(BUP)—A projected 20,000-mile week-end flight around the world of the Reynolds Bombardier, a converted twin-engine A-26 attack bomber, was delayed again today by a steady, fine rain.

AIRPORTS ALL around the New York metropolitan area were weathered in and the plane was unable to fly here from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, for fueling and a break-off across the Atlantic to Paris.

Milton Reynolds, 54-year-old millionaire manufacturer of a ball point pen, hoped to better the round-the-world flight record of 91 hours and 12 minutes set in July, 1938, by Howard Hughes. The plane is expected to pass through Edmonton.

Ont. Farmers Leave Homes in Flood

LONDON, Ont., April 5 —(CP)—Farmers started to evacuate homes in Middlesex County as the Thames river today rose nearly 12 feet above normal at Chatham, broke over its banks in several places and flooded thousands of acres of farm land.

THE CHATHAM area appeared the hardest hit by Ontario's spring floods, brought on by 24 hours of warm rain. The Grand River in the Brantford district also was rising.

Chatham residents reported most of their basements flooded. Muddy water filled the city's sewer system and overflowed in the streets. Riverfront merchants moved merchandise to upper floors.

But "Star's" Role Doubtful

U.N. Session "Sold Out" For Gromyko Performance

LAKE SUCCESS, April 5 —(AP)—The United Nations today was in the unusual position of having a sellout on its hands without knowing whether the "star" of the show—Andrei A. Gromyko—would appear.

More than 5,000 overflow applications for seats to Monday's Security Council meeting already have been rejected. The U.N. press division reported. The council chamber seats only 514 spectators and all tickets were exhausted last Wednesday.

The U.N. added that nearly all written and telephone requests were accompanied by the comment that the applicants "wanted to hear Gromyko's answer."

Straight Ten Per Cent Boost On Accommodation Planned

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, April 5 —(CP)— The government will announce within the next few days a straight 10-per cent increase in the ceilings on domestic rentals, effective in some categories Monday, as the next step in its policy of progressive decontrol, the Canadian Press learned last night.

THIS FIRST relaxation of domestic housing rental ceilings clamped on during the war will be a complicated order involving various categories divided by date of construction and purchase of accommodation.

Though it could not be ascertained just what categories would be first affected, it was learned the 10-per cent increase in rentals will be allowed on some, effective Monday, and on other categories around May 1.

It is expected that the announcement will be made sometime early next week with a retroactive clause in some cases and it was believed possible the government also may follow the pattern recently established for commercial rentals. These now may become control-free if the landlord and the tenant sign a lease agreeable to both parties for a minimum of two years.

Jinnah, Viceroy Talk On India

NEW DELHI, April 5 —(AP)— Mohammed Ali Jinnah, president of India's Muslim League, conferred for an hour and 30 minutes today with Lord Mountbatten, the new viceroy, in what was described officially as "friendly and informal conversation."

IT WAS Jinnah's first meeting with Mountbatten and occurred as reports circulated that leaders of the predominantly Hindu All-India Congress party were willing to try again to negotiate with the Muslim League for settlement of India's snarled political-religious troubles.

What Jinnah's attitude would be only Jinnah knew and he wasn't saying. He has consistently demanded an independent Muslim state of Pakistan as against the Congress insistence on a unified India and there is no reason to believe the powerful league leader has changed his mind.

A USUALLY well-informed Congress source said leaders of his dominantly Hindu party would be willing to try for a settlement with the framework of the British cabinet mission plan issued last May. The league first accepted the plan as "limited Pakistan," then rejected it because of Congress interpretations.

Young Davis lived with the MacGregor family while Welsh lived with neighbors on the island. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Macdonald, both boys were wards of the Pictou County Children's Aid Society.

The accident was believed to have occurred as the three young children were sailing on the harbor in a home-made skiff equipped with a makeshift mast and burlap sail. It was believed Stewart MacGregor was drowned when he went to the aid of the children.

Second Leduc Well Now at 4,581 Feet

No. 2 Imperial Oil Well at Leduc is approaching the depth at which their first well started production, according to word from Imperial Oil officials Saturday. The depth of the well is 4,581 feet.

No. 3 is drilling now at 3,788 feet and No. 4 has reached a depth of about 1,820.

Smuggling Gang Run to Earth

LONDON, April 5 —(Reuters)— A £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) black market continental smuggling gang has been run to earth in the unsuspected, quiet nurseries of England's two bulb-growing counties, Lincolnshire and Cornwall.

British customs and excise quarters are preparing cases for prosecution of many Dutchmen for allegedly taking part in wholesale smuggling of Dutch bulbs and seeds, watches and jewelry from Holland into quiet river creeks and coves in East Anglia and on the Devon and Cornish coasts.

Brides Told Soviet Needs All Citizens

MOSCOW, April 5 —(AP)— Russian-born wives of 15 Britons to whom the Soviet government has denied exit visas to enable them to join their husbands have been told that the Soviet government needs every one of its citizens and in effect they would be "deserting their posts" if they left the country.

While the Soviet government has thus justified its action to the wives themselves, F. K. Roberts, British minister in Moscow, said it had given no official reason to Britons for its refusal to grant exit permits—it was under no compulsion to do so.

Unfurl Banners

JERUSALEM, April 5 —(AP)— Banners of the Jewish underground organization Irgun Zvai Leumi were unfurled suddenly today in the streets of Jerusalem, bidding Holy Day striders to "come to our help."

Sentence Germans

DACHAU, Germany, April 5 —(AP)—One German was sentenced to death, three others to life imprisonment and six to lesser prison terms today for their part in the mob murder of an American pilot who parachuted from his disabled plane near Luebeck in 1944.

Walkout Set for Monday

U.S. Strives to Beat Phone Strike Deadline

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The United States government today redoubled its efforts to beat the deadline for a coast-to-coast telephone strike Monday by mediating the dispute without seizure of the industry.

Broke All Laws But Couldn't Get Arrested

BALTIMORE, April 5 —(AP)— Cab Driver Gerald E. Caldwell told police today he broke every traffic regulation he could think of in a five-mile cross-town trip but couldn't get arrested. His passenger had a gun in his back.

Caldwell said the fare climbed into his cab with the declaration: "This is a pistol. I've had a rough time tonight, and now I'm going to give you a rough time."

He gave a destination and Caldwell set out on a planned orgy of speeding and stop-and-go running, expecting any moment that the gunman would relieve him of his receipts.

At the end of the trip, Caldwell said the passenger got out and told him: "Here's $5.25. That's all I've got, and that's all you're going to get."

The meter reading was $1.50.

Four Are Drowned As Boat Capsizes

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., April 5 —(CP)—Dragging operations were being carried on today in Merigomish harbor, about 15 miles northeast of here, for the bodies of three children and the 20-year-old brother of one of them, believed drowned when their sailboat overturned yesterday.

Elizabeth MacGregor, 34, and her brother Stewart, 20, only children of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacGregor of nearby Big Island; Harold Davis, 7; and Robert Welsh, 13.

Young Davis lived with the MacGregor family while Welsh lived with neighbors on the island. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Macdonald, both boys were wards of the Pictou County Children's Aid Society.

Claim U.S. Policy Bolsters Franco

By HARRISON SALISBURY

Spain unexpectedly broke into the debate over President Truman's halt-Communism doctrine today with charges from both Communist and Catholic sources that the new American policy was bolstering Gen. Francisco Franco.

THE SPANISH Catholic leader, Jose Maria Gil Robles, charged that Franco had been encouraged by Mr. Truman's doctrine and that the Spanish dictator's proposal for eventual re-establishment of the monarchy stamped directly from newly-emerged American foreign policy of supporting regimes which are regarded as bulwarks against Soviet expansion.

Robles charged that Franco had been given new confidence by the American move. The Franco monarchy plan has been attacked vigorously by all opposition Spanish elements, including Royalists, as a plan which, in effect, would perpetuate Franco's rule as a sort of regent for the vacant Spanish throne.

Since river steamship service to Asuncion was halted soon after the beginning of the rebellion, the railroad has been the only regular communication for the government.

Miners On Job

ESSEN, Germany, April 5 —(AP)—Many Ruhr valley coal miners who struck Thursday to protest food shortages went back to work today. British and German coal control officials said a "very high proportion" of the miners on the first shift were back on the job.

Braille Letters Lead to Marriage

CINCINNATI, April 5.—(AP)—Charles Owens, 41, blind Cincinnati man, and sightless Florence Fruthey, 39, Columbus, O., whose romance attracted wide attention, were married Thursday night in Indianapolis, relative said Friday.

Mrs. Clyde Owens, a sister-law, said the ceremony was performed at the home of Owens' sister, Mrs. William Lively, and that the newlyweds were expected in Cincinnati later.

The marriage climaxed a courtship conducted by correspondence in Braille.

Canada Ports Expect Big Shipping Season

By The Canadian Press

Canada's deep water ports on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and the long chain of ocean communication which starts at Montreal and ends at Port Arthur are all ready this year for a spring and summer shipping season which promises, according to Maritime observers, to exceed any before.

THE PORT MANAGER at Halifax, R. H. Hendry, said record amounts of Far Eastern natural rubber and large shipments of Australian wool are due, and predicted a better spring navigation than average.

Start of the Montreal navigation season, however, will affect Halifax and Saint John, N.B. Saint John's busy season begins in November and usually ends in mid-April, but this year shipping officials say summer prospects are bright also. Pitprops, lumber, grain and potatoes will be exported and a great deal of incoming West Indies trade is expected.

Montreal is always Canada's busiest port in summer and harbor officials expect this summer to be exceptionally busy. Ice-breakers have cleared the channel and the first ship of the year—probably the British steamer Angadale—is due around April 15. The port has one of its smallest stores of grain for export on hand in many years, but last summer's 80,000,000 bushels shipped will likely be topped.

SOME OF THE MAJOR items of export scheduled for Montreal include 83,000,000 eggs for the United Kingdom and Europe, 20,000,000 pounds of poultry products and 218,000,000 pounds of beef. Passenger service, though not up to pre-war capacity, will be extensive.

Britons Rush To Quit Cities

LONDON, April 5.—(CP)—Muffled, rain-coated Britons lined up at London's stations yesterday to get out of the capital for the week-end, but the Easter holiday brought no relief to farmers whose fields were deep under water.

LONDON RESEMBLED a deserted city, with most citizens who did not go out of town preferring the warmth of their homes to the drab streets of a chill April day. The few wayfarers included persons hopefully searching for cigarettes—an almost hopeless task at stocks were low and most shops closed for the holiday.

Only the railway station and the highways leading out of the capital were jammed by the holiday-makers' stampede to the country.

WEATHER REPORTS from the rest of Britain were mixed, but hardly any region escaped either rain or cold winds. Forecasts were little better, and one expert at the usually matter-of-fact air ministry feelingly said he expected a continuation of "this miserable weather."

RENTALS UP

provided for a 25-per cent increase in all types of business accommodation still under control provided the landlord was prepared to sign a two-year lease. If the tenant refuses, he may be required to vacate at the end of the present lease and the accommodation then becomes free from control.

There was a possibility that some such scheme, involving an increase of not more than 10 per cent on the basis of a long-term lease, might be used for domestic rentals.

In the case of commercial rentals, too, accommodation which is offered for rent for the first time has been released from control and it was thought this method of lifting restrictions also might be applied to ordinary dwellings.

GENERALLY, however, the domestic changes are expected to be governed by such factors as whether or not the accommodation is rented heated and the amount of landlord or janitor service provided.

Some further modification of eviction controls to allow persons owning homes but unable to occupy them to take over the premises may also be announced. A change was made in this field March 1 to allow a limited number of landlords to occupy tenanted homes which they had bought in the "justifiable" belief that they would be able to obtain occupancy.

There have been reports that the government has been under heavy pressure from landlords to make some adjustment which would give justice to owners of pre-war accommodation which still is renting at a rate established before the war.

CABINET MEMBERS have admitted freely that the government has been seeking to make some such changes but could not find a workable formula. A formula now has been devised which the government believes will be fair to landlords and tenants.

A number of plans have been considered by the Prices Board, the agency in charge of rental controls, but up to now none has proved satisfactory to the cabinet.

Strikers Hold Up "Bootleg" Coal

SYDNEY, N.S., April 5 (CP)—Truckloads of United Mine Workers (U.M.W.) pickets were rushed to block highways and a constant vigil in the coal mining areas today as striking miners backed up their decision to clamp down on the sale of "bootleg" coal.

MORE THAN 200 men were on duty on the Sydney-Glace Bay road last night and the New Waterford highway also was well guarded as the miners took steps to prevent the sale to householders of the illegally-mined coal.

Last night a coal-laden truck raced through picket lines and evaded a strikers' "scout car" but soon was overtaken in the centre of Sydney. After a lengthy traffic holdup the vehicle was driven back outside the city, the coal dumped and the truck overturned. Reports that the driver had been "beaten up" were unconfirmed.

Lewis Delegate For Strike Parley

GLACE BAY, N.S., April 5.—(CP)—One of John L. Lewis' right-hand men, International Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy (AFL), will attend a conference to be held in Montreal next week to discuss the 49-day-old Maritime coal strike, it was learned today. The strike parley was said by authoritative sources in Ottawa to be an effort to end the walkout which has left 13,000 miners idle and has paralyzed Eastern Nova Scotia's most important industry.

The United States deputy, Robert Murphy, said the Russians sought to create a strong central government in Germany such as existed under Hitler.

The charge was made by Andrei Y. Vishinsky in a committee session of the council of foreign ministers.

However, Murphy replied calmly. Vishinsky apologized and the brief tension was eased as the committee continued its discussion of Germany's political future.

Loggers in B.C. Stay Off Job

PORT ALBERNI, B.C., April 5.—(CP)—Fifteen hundred members of the International Woodworkers of America (IWOA) did not report for work in camps today, but will return to work Tuesday. L. Mackie, local union business agent, said the men will work 40 hours weekly until an arbitration board settles the hours-of-work clause in the existing agreement.

Mr. Justice H. I. Bird of the Vancouver court of appeal was appointed arbitration board chairman, but date of hearings has not been set. The board is to decide whether working hours are to be 40 weekly from April 1 to June 30, under the agreement as interpreted by the union or 48 hours as claimed by employers.

MR. MACKIE said: "The men are not working today, but they will be back in the camps Tuesday morning after the Monday holiday. They will work only 40 hours a week until the issue is settled."

Refloat Liner

PARIS, April 5.—(Reuters)—The 40,000-ton French liner Liberte—formerly the German Europa—was today afloat in Le Havre harbor after pumps had emptied the bow and stern compartments of water and raised the ship 12 inches. Last winter the Liberte sank after crashing into the hull of the sunken 34,000-ton Paris.

The average salinity of Great Salt Lake, Utah, is almost six times greater than that of the ocean.

American Money Deals Watched

OTTAWA, April 5.—(CP)—Foreign Exchange Control Board officials said Thursday night that there has been no re-imposition of tight wartime control on dealings in United States currency but by a recent order of the board Canadian banks were required to have purchasers of U.S. currency fill out a form no matter what the amount of the purchase.

FROM THE beginning of this year, anyone could buy United States currency up to $100 at any bank without the need of completing a form, but the board's recent order requires a form be completed in any purchase of such funds no matter what the amount.

There is no restriction on the purchase of United States currency, a spokesman said. "The order requiring completion of a form is only to provide a check on who has bought such currency should a check become necessary to ensure that it was purchased for a proper purpose."

Thieves Get Away With Barry Medals

MONTREAL, April 5.—(CP)—Gift mementos of former National Hockey League days were stolen from the north-end home of Marty Barry, coach of Halifax St. Mary's junior team, Mrs. Corinne Barry, wife of the one time Detroit Red Wing Star, revealed Thursday.

Items stolen included medals from Stanley Cup playoff games and an engraved cigarette lighter and movie camera presented Marty Barry by Detroit fans during a special "Marty Barry" night in 1935.

Free 17-Year-Old On $50,000 Bail

SANTA ANA, Calif., April 5.—(AP)—Louise Overell, 17-year-old heiress, was ordered released under $50,000 bail yesterday on a grand jury indictment accusing her of the murder of her parents by a judge who said he found "no sufficient presumption of guilt."

A few minutes earlier, she and her husky boy friend, George Gollum, 21, had pleaded innocent to the indictment. Judge Franklin G. West set their trial to start May 26.

Report Discovery Northern Passage

SEATTLE, April 5.—(AP)—The coast guard ice breaker Northwind, on a North Atlantic scientific cruise last summer discovered a potential "northern passage," coast guard district headquarters said yesterday.

CAPT. RICHARD M. Hoyle, coast guard district operations officer, who commanded the Northwind on this expedition, voiced the opinion that the vessel, or any of its type, could easily go from New York to Seattle via the "northern passage."

He said the Northwind went as far west as Dundas Peninsula on Melville Island, only 730 miles east of Point Barrow, Alaska. Scout planes reported "heavy ice" for about 100 miles from that point, he said.

Fear Dictatorship Coming in Italy

ROME, April 5.—(AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi declared last night there might be "no other remedy but dictatorship," if Italy's economic crisis deepened beyond control.

"EVERYTHING will be put in motion" to enforce the government's 14-point program to save the country from collapse, he said at a press conference.

As the premier spoke, Naples was in the grip of a strike that was rapidly becoming general. Rome post office workers were out in protest against the high cost of living. Throughout the country telegraph communications were paralyzed.

THE ORDINARILY mild-spoken premier, his voice betraying deep emotion, declared that Italy could not struggle out of her current trouble without foreign aid. Dictatorship might come, he said "if the popular masses find great resistance in the well-to-do, or if they disagree among themselves."

U.S. Sailor Kills Stranded Whale

NORFOLK, Va., April 5.—(AP)—Tide water, Va.'s biggest fishday Friday came to an end with the death of a Little Creek mudflat Blackie, the stranded whale. A sailor from the nearby amphibious naval base administered the coup de grace to the 80-foot injured mammal with 12 rifle shots. Representatives of a tailow company who had been standing by for the end since the whale neared the narrow ferry channel in from Chesapeake Bay Thursday slipped a towing line around Blackie's tail and began the task of towing him via tug to their plant for rendering into fats and oils.

Rubber Mat Does It All

Eggs Bounce Back Up After 11-Storey Drop

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP)—The Easter egg season arrived Friday, with a bounce—and also a plop and a splatter.

THIRTEEN FRESH, grade-A hen products and six of the duck variety came whizzing down to the sidewalk from the 11th floor of a Manhattan building and some of them went whizzing right back up again. Those that didn't, needless to say, did the plopping and splattering.

Anyway, it all went to show what science can do—and also, perhaps, why some scientists are scientists instead of baseball players. The finding was terrible.

A three-inch pad of cellular rubber, about six feet long and three feet wide, was what started things bouncing.

THE AFFAIR was a demonstration, put on by Hugh De Haven, director of crash injury research at the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Centre, and scientists from the U.S. Rubber Company, which developed the egg bouncing mat for possible use as an aircraft safety cushion.

With a crowd of gawking passers-by eying the proceedings, a research assistant to De Haven started dropping vari-colored hen and duck fruit from an 11th floor terrace of the medical centre.

SWISS-SH came the first and spl-lash it went, all over the sidewalk. Whizz-z came a second. It hit the mat and went high into the air. Harold Taylor, an engineer, tried to catch it on the rebound and—amid howls from the crowd—muffed it. He got the next one, though, and the crowd cheered.

Only one of the eggs cracked upon striking the mat.

Rush Supplies For Big Climb

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 5.—(AP)—Members of Bradford Washburn's Mount McKinley expedition, planning to start a climb of North America's highest peak in approximately a week, raced against time Friday to land supplies at a base camp on Muldrow Glacier while present excellent weather continues. Washburn, director of the New England Museum of Natural History, who led the 20,300-foot mountain in 1942, is undertaking this year's climb as a cosmic ray research and mapping project.

British Marquess Dead After Illness

LONDON, April 5.—(CP)—The Marquess of Salisbury died here last night after a week's illness. He was 85. The title will pass to his son, Viscount Cranborne, Conservative leader in the House of Lords and former Dominions secretary. One of the most widely travelled of peers, the Marquess was proud of his title of "Eagle Plume" conferred on him many years ago in Canada, where he was made a chief of the Sarcee tribe of Indians.

Canada Exports Up 17 Per Cent

OTTAWA, April 5.—(CP)—Canada's merchandise export trade in February rose by 17 percent over the same month last year, aggregating $179,500,000 compared with $153,000,000, the Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday.

FEBRUARY'S ADVANCE followed an increase of 10 percent in January, when exports were valued at $208,600,000 against $189,090,000 in January, 1946. Combined total for the two months was $398,100,000 compared with $342,200,000 in the same period of 1946, a rise of 13.4 percent.

Exports in the wood and paper group rose from $30,700,000 in February last year to $39,400,000, continuing the pronounced advance of preceding months. Major gains were shown in newsprint, planks and boards and wood pulp. Newsprint exports were valued at $21,921,000 compared with $17,238,000; planks and boards $15,678,000 compared with $6,601,000; and wood pulp $11,202,000 compared with $8,971,000.

Mexico President "Passing Cigars"

MEXICO CITY, April 5.—(AP)—The government newspaper El Nacional said yesterday that a boy was born Thursday to Mrs. Beatriz Velasco de Aleman, wife of Mexico's president. The president and his wife have two other children, Miguel, Jr., 14, and Beatriz, 13.

Ex-Crown Prince Wants Castle Back

LONDON, April 5.—(Reuters)—The 63-year-old former Crown Prince Wilhelm of Germany has asked the Dutch government to hand over Doorn castle where the Kaiser lived in exile the last of his life. Hamburg radio said yesterday, Holland confiscated the castle as enemy property during the last war. The former Crown Prince, who has been living in retirement in the French zone of Germany, based his application on the argument that the Kaiser never was a Nazi.

Mystery Death Of Girl Probed

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—Coroner W. C. Welburn said yesterday that Wynona Harvey, 25-year-old Philippine Embassy clerk, apparently came to her mysterious death by drowning, but there was "no information" on how she reached the stream in which her body was found.

THE BODY was found Thursday beneath a culvert on a highway in Arlington County, Va., across the Potomac River from Washington. Dr. Welburn, Arlington county coroner, said the body presumably had lain in several inches of water for about three days. There were no signs of violence. Her pocketbook was found 55 feet away.

Miss Harvey, described at the Philippine Embassy as "very conscientious," was said by her landlady, Mrs. Helen Porter, to have been undergoing an emotional upset attended by nightmares.

Bomb Blast Fatal

PARIS, April 5.—(Reuters)—Eight workmen removing mines from a French military area near Cazeaux in the Bordeaux region were killed yesterday when a bomb exploded.

Policeman Dies In N.Y. Gun Duel

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP)—A policeman and an alleged robber killed each other in a pistol duel in a Brooklyn grocery store early yesterday.

PATROLMAN Jack Chason, 34, was one victim and the other was tentatively identified as Alfonso Pace, 28.

Police said Michael Martin, a clerk, witnessed the duel and gave this account of it: Chason, making a personal purchase, was out of sight when the gunman entered and told Martin: "This is a stickup."

Chason appeared and fired once at the robber, who returned the shot. Chason fired five more shots and the robber four.

Both dropped and both were dead when police arrived. Chason had shot the robber five times; only one shot struck the patrolman, a bullet in the chest.

Regular Flights On Great Circle

FAIRFIELD, Calif., April 5.—(AP)—Brig-Gen. Archie J. Old, Jr., announced last night that the army's Air Transport Command, trusting in bad-weather landing aids, would begin regular operations on the Great Circle route to Japan, via Anchorage and Adak.

GEN. OLD RETURNED yesterday from piloting a C-54 to Tokyo and return and announced he was "optimistic about flying this route." He said Great Circle flights would cut 23 hours flying time each way from the Central Pacific Fairfield-to-Tokyo route.

Two roundtrip flights by the Great Circle route are being started immediately, he said, to familiarize crews with the route and gather operational information. Regularly scheduled flights will be started in about two months.

A Season of Worship

Easter, which is the culmination of Good Friday, the final act in the divine drama which won redemption for men, is at once the most important and the most sacred of all Christian festivals.

It is the most important of all festivals because its significance is the very essence of the Christian faith. It is the most sacred of all festivals because it commemorates those events by which the divinity of Christ was established beyond question, and immortality made accessible to those who believe in Him.

Easter, then, is preeminently a season of worship. And if it is also a season of sartorial finery and gaiety and color and rejoicing, these things are fitting, too, because, if one preserves the right attitude of mind, even a new hat can be a symbol of worship.

Surely the occasion of Christ's overcoming the world is not a time for long faces and sackcloth and ashes.

Easter is a season of worship. But so is any other season in the Church year. That is something that many people who profess to be Christians frequently forget.

They forget that the first business of the Church and of Christians is the worship of God, and they go to Church, not to give something to God, but to get something for themselves.

And if they don't get something for themselves, they are disappointed and begin to believe in the Church's failure. Perhaps they found the service dull. Perhaps the sermon failed to give them the desired emotional or intellectual "kick." So they go away feeling that the Church has nothing for them and that they might as well stay away.

If that is why people go to Church—to get something for themselves—they might perhaps, just as well stay away.

For while the Church does emphatically confer the greatest gifts conceivable upon Christians, as, for instance, the gifts inherent in Easter, the Christian should go to Church, primarily, to offer up to the Almighty that praise and gratitude and love which attune the human spirit to Himself.

Easter enriches the human soul proportionately as the human soul understands its significance. Those who do understand the meaning of Easter can only express their understanding in terms, not of a parade of vanity, but of profound gratitude to God who was made man.

Who Is Going to Pay?

Every person in Canada, in the United States, in Great Britain, and in most of the other democratic countries, has a personal interest in the reparations question that is being discussed at far off Moscow. For the reason that his pocket is going to be affected by the decision as to how, when and how much money the Allies are to collect from Germany as reparations.

Russia wants $10,000,000,000, and wants it now. Not as a means of punishing the invaders of its soil primarily, but because it needs the industrial machinery and other supplies which would have to be taken as payment, needs them badly. Its industrial mechanism was wrecked, stolen and worn out during the war. Its people in the cities are hungry, ill-clothed and housed like cattle.

But if Russia were allowed to carry off Germany's manufacturing plants the Germans would thus be deprived of the means of making any effective headway toward economic recovery. They would be doomed to continue living on relief. And it is the democratic countries which would have to supply the relief—just as they are doing now.

That brings the calculation straight to the pockets of the taxpayers in these countries. They would in effect have to pay the reparations which Russia collected from Germany. They would do this in two ways. First by losing any worth while chance of collecting some reparations for themselves. And also by paying for food or other supplies shipped from Canadian and other sources to relieve destitution in the Reich, over an indefinite period—as they are doing at this moment.

Russia's need has to be balanced against Germany's need. It is not a question of helping an ally or punishing an enemy. The question is whether the democracies are to pay what Germany owes Russia and collect nothing for themselves.

That is why General Marshall and Mr. Bevin take the ground that the best course is to let Germany get on its feet economically; and then skim off the surplus production to pay damage claims all around.

It is not a matter of political antagonism or favoritism, but of plain business sense.

The Vanishing Trolley

Just as there were those who condemned the telephone as an instrument of the devil, and, within living men's memories, those who laughed at the idea of air transport, there seem to be some who still cling to the belief that the bus can never take the place of the trolley car with tracks.

Thus the Ottawa Journal shakes its head sadly and doubtfully over the dictum that "the street car is on the road to oblivion."

From a newspaper published in a city where many have never yet seen an escalator, for the reason that there is none in Ottawa, this need not be surprising. But the Journal is not so doubtful as it is wavering. In the same breath whereby it doubts "whether gasoline coaches or the new electric trolley busses could meet our needs as well as an efficient tram service," it admits the possibility of "better and quieter trams."

Three years from now, unless obstacles appear, there will not be a trolley car in Edmonton, so satisfactory has the bus, with or without trolley, been found. Calgary, not more than a decade or so behind Edmonton, has begun the scrapping of the out-moded trolley car. But no Ottawan need come so far to see the proof of the bus's superiority. In his own Ontario city of London the last of the car tracks was torn up in '42. In near-by Windsor he may still see a few hundred yards of disused track, but never a trolley car. The bus has chased them all off the streets.

Up to the U.N.O.

Britain has asked that the Assembly of the United Nations set up a fact-finding committee to survey the whole course of events in Palestine over the last twenty-five years. That is ever since the League of Nations made Britain responsible for the administration of that territory.

While this mandate still stands for the time, the request for an inquiry can be taken as the first step toward turning the whole Palestine conundrum over to the new international authority. It is a mistake that this was not done many months ago—and also a tribute to British unwillingness to abandon an undertaking from which there have come no profits and plenty of abuse.

Whichever power is saddled with the duty of preserving order in the Holy Land in future will need the backing of the United Nations. That is plain enough. More important still—this is the body which should set the policy—and lay down the law—under which the area is to be administered. Britain has stood the gaff long enough.

It is time for other powers, all of which are under moral obligations to both Jews and Arabs, to stop sitting on the sidelines and throwing bricks at the umpire. They will have to quit that comfortable role now and take a share of the responsibility for saying what is to be done—and also for supporting whatever power they name as their agent in carrying out the plan.

THE THRILL THAT COMES ONCE IN A LIFETIME - by Webster

My Definitions

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

There is as wide disagreement amongst our own experts as there is, say between Marshall and Molotov.

DEMOCRACY: Government of the people, for the people, by the people. Where free, direct decisions are not possible by all the people, giving the power to make decisions to representatives chosen by the people, and removable by the people when the people are not satisfied.

Democracy is never an end, but rather a means to an end, to enable the people to have "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." An essential feature of democracy is continuous, free discussion and decision after such. Democracy cannot be separated from a balanced principle of rule by majority vote, but with acceptance by the majority of the right of the minority to gain enough support to become the majority.

CAPITALISM: An economic system in which mass production is the key feature for the private profit of the proprietors. Such production requires vast investments in factories, mines etc. Thus capital becomes the key element in society, and the controllers of capital the most influential class.

The decisive feature of capitalism is that business starts or stops, slows down or speeds up, according to the expectation of making or losing money.

SOCIALISM: An economic system based on business financed and democratically operated as a public service. The essential feature is public ownership of means of production and distribution.

Truman's Loyalty Test

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

The attorney - general may determine what is or is not "subversive," and what is, or is not "fascist." The definitions of "fascism" as is daily being demonstrated, are made up to suit the particular political views of the person making the definition. Thus we have "clerical fascists," "crypto-fascists," "social fascists" which in some minds extend to the Catholic clergy, industrialists, land owners, persons opposed to the Soviets. What is a "fascist" in Poland or Yugoslavia? Do American conservatives not realize, that under the precedent of this order, Communists calling themselves something else could overthrow the constitution of the United States, once they had control of the government?

What is the meaning of "sympathetic association with"? Heaven protect the people of this country from judgments by "association!" The Daily Worker abhors lynchings. So do I. Am I, therefore, by association, a Communist? Hitler was anti-Communist. So am I. Am I, therefore, a Nazi? I am opposed to this order—for reasons very different from the Communists. Does that make me their "fellow traveller"?

AUTHORITIES recognize a dilemma of constitutional democracies. It is that organizations whose purpose it is to destroy the libertarian state are able to use democratic processes and civil liberties for that end. The problem is how to protect the people and the state from such open or underground conspiracies. It is a real problem, for which the laws against subversion in democracies have elsewhere proved inadequate. But the president is meeting that problem by providing, in this order, the very means by which the libertarian state can certainly be abolished.

Conservatives today are, for the most part, approving this order. I beg them to think a second time and to recall President Roosevelt's remark—which, at the time, they justly criticized—about powers "which in any other hands" would prove dangerous.

Suppose that in the future an economic crisis in the United States resulted in a radical turn to the left; and that Mr. Wallace, or someone like him, and surrounded, as he is, by a crowd of fellow-travellers and totalitarian-minded do-gooders, came into office. This order would have removed them from American citizenship. One of them, as a matter of fact, would become attorney-general.

NOW, THERE EXISTS this order of President Truman's, as a

War Weary Britain

BY HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

During the recent months, while the people of Britain have struggled from one crisis to another, many speakers, writers and public persons have pointed to Britain's plight as an example of the horrors of socialism. And, although I hold no brief for socialism I am convinced that it is most unfair to blame it for the troubles which beset the British people.

The British people today are suffering from the after-effects of war. Their problem is a complex one made up of a combination of shortages of every kind—practically all of which are attributable to their tremendous war effort. They are short of manpower and this reflects itself in every phase of life on the little islands. And I am equally convinced, after talking to people who have recently come from there, reviewing my memory of what I saw when I was there during the war, and reading reports of observers, that Britain would have had to face the same problems she is facing today regardless of what party or men were at the head of her affairs.

IN THE FIRST place her people are tired from the strain and effort imposed by nearly six-years of total war. For these six years they lived in fear—fear of death from bomb and robot-bomb and rocket attacks. Fear for the safety of loved ones in the forces. Fear concerning the outcome of the conflict.

In the second place they are wearied from the strain and effort demanded of them. They worked long hours in the factories and in the fields. There were no real facilities for relaxation or recreation. They left their machines to take their posts as fire-watchers, as air raid wardens, or for Home Guard training. And they are so wearied from all this that they find it difficult to continue to put forth the effort necessary to make reconversion a success.

In the third place they were weakened and disheartened by continuing rationing and food shortages. Their diet is of necessity so frugal, so monotonous and uninteresting we in Canada cannot imagine what it is like. Eating, which is one of life's most important pleasures, is no more than something necessary to permit continued existence.

BRITAIN TODAY is like a runner who has just completed a long and grueling race which he won by expending every ounce of his energy, and calling upon his last reserves of courage and who, after breathing the tape, suddenly finds that he must run another race immediately. No wonder she is staggering from crisis to crisis. No wonder the bull dog grip seems to be weakening on the Empire.

But we who live on this continent, in Canada and the United States, owe these brave, stubborn people of Britain our very freedom. They gave us an opportunity of winning the final victory. And now that they are suffering it would be more to the point if we would move to help them with all that we have instead of making political hay out of their suffering.

We, the Barbarians

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

It is typical of the English that they are deeply concerned about the beauty of their countryside when they have hardly enough to eat; and equally typical of us in Canada that we have little time for beauty of any sort even when we are enjoying our most spacious and garish boom.

The National Trust of England has just published a book to warn the public that the nation's beauty is threatened by democracy. Now that socialism is guaranteeing a high standard of life, now that workers are assured of short working hours, long holidays and ample pay, the people long penned up in cities will swarm to the country and perhaps desecrate it.

The National Trust calculates that England has perhaps fifty years to educate itself in the ways of beauty. By that time either the beauty of England will be destroyed or the people will have learned to understand and protect it. We can leave this problem to the English, but what about our own?

WE HAVE HAD democracy here for a long time in a fashion which the poorer English have yet to achieve—that is to say, in an economic sense. Millions of our people can drive about the countryside, which is the possession of the public at large, not of a few barons. Besides the mechanical and financial means of reaching it, we have a vast supply of outdoors, more of it than we can ever hope to see. Therefore, like all things that are free, it is undervalued, though obviously it is our most precious possession.

Go to any public beauty spot in Canada and observe how we have squandered our treasure. Wherever a highway touches a scenic view, there will be found the inevitable signboard advertising ladies' undergarments against the background of the eternal hills. Wherever some resort is erected in the wilderness, there will be found the litter of our cigarette boxes, sandwiches and paper napkins. In the deepest defiles of the Rockies will be found the common spoor of our species, the pink chewing gum wrapper. Where a monument has been erected on the brink of Niagara to celebrate our Canadian freedom the beauty-loving public has covered it with scrawled autographs and obscene notations. For this free-

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

Having made an outstanding success of its first annual concert last season Woodward's Choral Society will present its second concert at the Masonic temple at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. This mixed group is drawn entirely from members of the C. Woodward Ltd. store staff. All are music lovers, who, after work, enjoy recreation by means of singing. This writer, in common with about 800 others, attended the initial concert, just about a year ago, and was struck by the enthusiasm shown, and by the effort necessarily expended in building up an organization of the size and efficiency of this, in such a short time. Now, with another year of diligent practice to its credit, the society is expected to rise to even higher levels of artistry. Leonard Betts is the conductor. He is one of the most talented and at the same time, one of the busiest musical directors in this city.

In addition to directing Woodward's Choral society, he is the conductor of the Cavendish choir, which gave its third annual recital a couple of weeks ago. Also, he is choirmaster of Christ church. And while he is top man in three choral organizations, he occupies an inconspicuous, though highly important place in another. He is a member of the double brass section of the Edmonton Philharmonic orchestra, giving the benefit of his sincere musicianship to that part which forms the foundation of the entire orchestra. And he is a good double brass player, which makes him all the more valuable.

Assisting the chorus will be William Smith, popular tenor; Egon Grapentin, violinist, and Kenneth Nichols, boy soprano.

The program will include Elgar's My Love Dwells in a Northern Land; On Himalay, Bantock; two Negro spirituals, Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child and Joshua, Fight the Battle of Jericho; two sea chanties, Shenandoah and Hallelujah; the old English Drink to Me Only; By the Bend of the River, Edwards; With a Song in My Heart, Rodgers; and Sing a Song of Sixpence, Diack, "with apologies" to Handel.

Time is running out on the Edmonton Civic Opera society, and almost before members realize it, the time will have arrived for the production, scheduled at the Strand theatre April 16, 17, 18 and 19 with a matinee on the last day. The production, of course is the perennial favorite, "The Prince of Pilsen."

Operatives who have been scouting for this column at rehearsals, have brought the most recent tidings of the situation surrounding "The Prince." Mrs. James B. Carmichael, musical director, has fully recovered from a severe cold which incapacitated her for several days. The same goes for a large percentage of the company. Charles F. Sweetlove dramatic director, has brought his end of the production up to the point where joint rehearsals of orchestra, principals and chorus are taking place. Mrs. Imelda Pepin-Olsen has worked out some reliable choral effects, including no little unaccompanied singing by the chorus, specialty of the languorous waltz, The Message of the Violet, and the Heidelberg steele song, Dance Director Marion Kinney Rouse has evolved striking dance forms, to go with everything from bathing girls to those taking the cure in the medicinal waters of Czechoslovakia.

Laurier Picard has a role that will be rated as the best of the many he has played. Gabrielle Guy, one of the most talented of this city's actresses, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia. But, so severe did illness lay its hand on her, that she has been unable to continue with her part of Mrs. Crocker. Accordingly, Eleanor Bowerman, irrepressible comic and stand-by in almost any role, has stepped into the breach for this important part. Replacing Miss Bowerman as Sidole, a petite French maid, is Rose Barile.

Interest in the production is reported as widespread. For instance, one school at Stony Plain has asked for a block of 60 seats, and has specified that the students be placed so that they can not only hear, but see the orchestra and all else associated with the production. From another outside point has come a request for 50 seats in a block.

This writer was impressed with two remarks made in connection with "The Prince of Pilsen" a few days ago. One executive of the opera group, after extolling the virtues of the musical score, asked "Who is Gustav Liders anyway?" An old friend was encountered a short distance along the street. "I always like that old time stuff about the shows. Can you give us something on 'The Prince of Pilsen'?" Both timely remarks, and good questions. If all goes well, your correspondent will do his best to accommodate the inquirers in this column next week because both Liders and his work are accompanied by not a few interesting facts.

A few months ago announcement was made by A. G. Herman, that he was organizing a harmonica band, as he had done at Vancouver some years ago. He now reports that the band is going strong. Known as the Edmonton Harmonica Pals, the organization welcomes members who have reached and passed the 6-year mark. Meetings, or rehearsals, are held Saturdays from 2:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m., at the former American Red Cross building, 10280 100 street. Mr. Herman said that there will be no limit to the number in the band and that if sufficient interest is shown, instruction will be given on other instruments.

Abe Frutkin, conductor of the Edmonton Philharmonic orchestra, plans to continue rehearsals well into the summer, and through even July and August if feasible and reasonable. The orchestra concluded its season in such splendid fashion last Sunday, that there is unusual enthusiasm among the members, and it is expected that rehearsals will be carried right on. Already work has commenced on prospective program-items for next season, including concertos and symphonies. No definite plans have been made so far but it is expected that at least five concerts will be included in the regular series and more will be added if the circumstances warrant same. It is anticipated that the strength of the orchestra, both numerically and artistically, will be increased and that greater financial aid will be forthcoming.

One of the greatest difficulties in the matter of orchestral music here, is finding new players. There are insufficient instrumental students. There are all too few violinists. It is to be hoped that public and high schools, Sunday schools, home and school associations, and others will do everything possible to encourage formation and development of orchestras.

There are all too few professional engagements here to attract first class performers on the French horn, oboe, clarinet, or any other instrument. That being the case, they must be developed here. The only way to develop them is to get the boys and girls together, give them instruction and good leadership and have them play, play and play some more. Through the smaller orchestras, the young people will gain their first experience in orchestral playing and will progress from there into the larger sphere, and become worthy members of the Edmonton Philharmonic orchestra. It is a long, hard road, but in such sponsoring organizations as those mentioned above, rests the hopes of future orchestral development here.

The fourth session of the tenth Alberta legislature, which was prorogued earlier this week had one feature of interest to music. As a rule, the legislature is a most unmusical place, as anyone who has sat through a session will testify. But at the most recent gathering the law-makers passed a "Bill respecting the Alberta Registered Music Teachers' Association." It was sponsored by Floyd M. Baker, Social Credit member for Clover Bar. The whole idea of the bill is to raise the standards of music teaching.

The organization is empowered to pass bylaws for the government and management of its members; management of its property; setting up and keeping a register of members and the admission of members; recognition and affiliation of local societies, and for other purposes.

The bill provides that membership of the association consists of persons in good standing as members of the Alberta Music Teachers' Association, or an affiliated body.

Other provisions of membership are that the candidate must be more than 18 years old; resident in Alberta for at least six months immediately prior to applying for membership, or for a lesser period as may be determined; must hold a diploma equivalent at least to that of associateship or licentiatehip granted by specified standard musical examining bodies and has been teaching music in a professional capacity under conditions satisfactory to the examining board for at least two years, or has satisfied the examining board as to ability.

All examinations, tests, recognition of certificates and diplomas and matters pertaining thereto, shall be conducted and determined by a board of examiners appointed by the Senate of the University of Alberta.

The University of Alberta has announced the results of the written and practical examinations in music of the Western Board of Music in Alberta, which were held in February throughout the Province. Following are the candidates from the Edmonton district who were successful:

TODAY'S MESSAGE

The Resurrection

A famous skeptic was once asked how he would start a new religion. He replied: "I would go about the land for several years preaching and doing good. Then I would contrive to have myself crucified, and on the third day I would arise from the dead."

Speaking without faith, this man nevertheless affirmed the all-importance of Christ's resurrection. If Christ had not risen from the dead, as He predicted He would, there would be no Christian religion today. All His years on earth would have meant nothing more than the record of a humble man who led an extraordinarily holy life and preached a new and wonderful gospel of love.

But Christ did rise in glory and triumph from the tomb where his tortured dead body had been laid. By His resurrection He not only proved Himself God, but gave to all men the hope of personal immortality. "He that believeth in Me, even though he be dead, yet shall he live."

It was the resurrection that brought the world to the feet of Jesus. Within a generation of His death, His teachings had spread throughout the Roman Empire, until by the end of the first century there was hardly a city of any size that did not have its Christian community.

"Because He lives, your cause and you shall triumph." It is good to remember that besides vindicating man's hope of immortality, the resurrection clearly proves that even in this world good will always prevail over evil. We need that reminder today when there is so much despair and fear in men's hearts. As long as men live in godliness and virtue, they will always have the assurance that not all the powers of evil shall be able to overcome them.

Easter Celebrations Planned By Churches

Special Easter music and pulpit messages, will bring to Edmonton church-goers on Sunday, the glad tidings of the resurrection, with its assurance of eternal life, and emphasis on the Christian faith. All Edmonton churches have made special plans to observe the day.

THE DOMINANT NOTE of Easter music and sermons is of life triumphant. This spirit will be found too in Edmonton congregations, symbolically marked by the newest fashion creations, designed for the Easter parade, and by the floral decorations of pulpit and altar.

The day will have special significance for members of the congregation of Jasper Place United Church, since not only will they join in the Easter service, but their new church will be opened and dedicated, at 11 a.m.

Guest preacher for the occasion will be the Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKinnon. Others assisting in the opening and dedicatory services will be the Rev. D. K. Allan and the Rev. T. T. Riekie.

At HIGHLANDS United Church, observations of the day will commence with a Holy Communion

Attend Easter Services With Your Family

Salvation Army Plans Services

Special Easter services will be held in The Salvation Army Citadel on 102 street over the weekend. Brig. and Mrs. R. Reymers, the divisional commander for Alberta will be in charge.

On Saturday night a united youth rally will be held. This will be known as "Salvation Army Youth in Action" and music, songs, testimonies and gospel messages will be presented by young people. The Citadel young people's band and singing company, will take part.

On Sunday the regular services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. with the young people's gatherings at 1:45 and 2:30 p.m. All messages and music will be in keeping with the spirit of Easter.

"King of Kings", the well-known sound motion picture of the story of Christ will be presented, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Christian Science

Christian Science churches on Sunday will have a Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality." It is composed of passages like these: "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him." (Colossians 2:6). "We walk in the footsteps of Truth and Love by following the example of our Master in the understanding of divine metaphysics." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 192).

Church Records Morning Services

The ill and shut-in members of Christ Presbyterian Church, Bayonne, N.J. can participate in Sunday morning worship services without even leaving their sick-beds or wheel-chairs.

The church, which already boasts a church-time nursery service for mothers and a Sunday taxi service for the immobile, has added a new service, the home delivery of recordings of the Sunday worship. Every Sunday morning, William Hummel, a parishioner, records the service on his machine, and the pastor, the Rev. Robert M. Moore, delivers them personally to the homes of the sick members of his flock. Even non-members are taking advantage of the service.

Food, Clothing Sent to Germany

Church and other relief organizations have sent 8,500 tons of food and clothing to Germany through the Council of Relief Agencies Licensed for Operation in Germany (C.R.A.L.O.G.) since its establishment last spring. It was announced at a meeting of representatives from the three occupation zones. The meeting was presided over by James Flint, of Church World Service, American Protestant welfare group.

It was reported that over 40,000 pounds of clothing and 600,000 pounds of food were received through C.R.A.L.O.G. port facilities at Bremen during the month of November alone.

GEMS FROM SWEDENBORG

"It is not so difficult as many believe to enter the way of heaven. The only difficulty is to be able to resist the love of self and the love of the world, and to prevent their predominance, for they are the source of all evils."
"Men live a moral life either for the sake of the Divine or for the sake of men in the world; the moral life which is lived for the sake of the Divine is spiritual life. Both appear alike in their outward form, but in inward form they are altogether different: the one saves man, the other does not save him. For he who lives a moral life for the sake of the Divine is led by the Divine; but he who lives a moral life for the sake of men in the world is led by himself."
—Heaven and Hell

Swedenborg's writings are available in every public library. Out-of-town readers may get copies from University Extension Library. For information Phone 59905.

Three Services At Metropolitan

In order to provide accommodation for the Easter congregations, three services will be held in Metropolitan United Church on Sunday. At 9:30 a.m. there will be an early morning service, music by Junior Choir of 80 voices, with the Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson, principal of St. Stephen's College as guest preacher. Members of Professor Campbell's young men's Bible class will usher. CGIT, Tuxis and Trail Hangers, and the senior division of the church school are asked to attend. At 11:30 the Easter morning service will be held with the senior choir providing the music, and the Rev. R. M. Thompson will preach on "Truth Triumphant." At the 7:30 p.m. service, the senior choir will present special Easter music, and the minister's topic will be "Signposts to Immortality." The Hallelujah chorus will be sung by the senior choir at both the 11 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock services.

TO STUDY SEMITISM

Plans for an intensive study of anti-Semitism to be made in Europe in co-operation with the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization next summer were announced in Chicago at a meeting of the central division of the national conference of Christians and Jews.

THE REV. DR. MURDOCH MACKINNON

New United Church Will Open Sunday

The formal opening of the Jasper Place United Church, will take place with a special Easter Sunday service, at 11 a.m. The Rev. G. A. Larue will conduct the service.

THE REV. D. K. Allan, first pastor of the old church, and the Rev. T. T. Riekie, who was in charge of the original Sunday School services, along with the Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKinnon, will share in the service of dedication. Dr. MacKinnon, will be guest speaker.

The opening services, which begin with the dedication of the church, will extend over the month of April, with a number of guest ministers present. On Sunday, April 27 services will reach a climax with adult baptism, and the reception of new members. The Rev. T. R. Davies, will be guest speaker.

The Easter Sunday service will mark the second anniversary of the church in Jasper Place. It is the only United Church in that district.

The Ecumenical Reconciliation Committee of Hungary has vigorously denied charges that three Reformed churches recently arrested for complicity in an alleged plot to overthrow the government, "improperly" used relief funds sent by the World Council of Churches in Geneva. The charges were made by Szabad Nep (Free People) Communist Party newspaper published in Budapest.

the story of the discovery of a NEW CAKE and PASTRY FLOUR

We didn't just happen on it by accident—years ago we started on a hunt for the best cake and pastry flour that could be made.

And over the years our research scientists have studied every kind of wheat that grows. They've explored all the details of every milling process. Our dietitians have baked thousands of cakes and pies, and kept a careful record of the results.

Now the results of all these efforts are brought to your kitchen in Monarch Flour. It's not intended for bread—it's a cake and pastry flour. We know you'll really get a surprise when you bake your first Monarch Flour cake. You'll notice when it comes from the oven that it's the most beautifully uniform cake you've ever baked. And when you cut it you'll be amazed at its soft, tender, moist texture.

We know that once you try Monarch Flour it will be your friend for life. So get a bag today, and... happy "bakeday" to you.

CHOCOLATE CAKE

Yield—one 8-inch square cake.

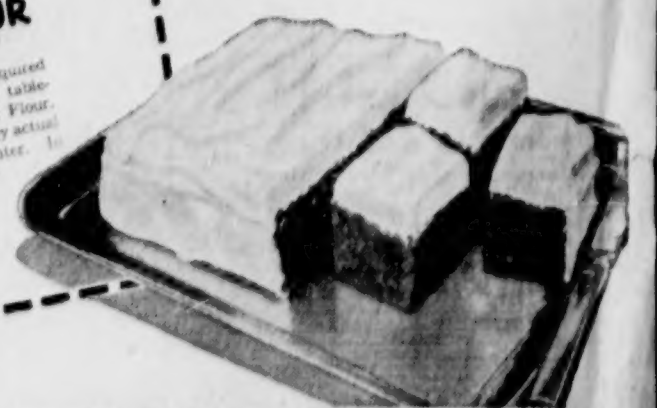

Oven temperature—rather slow, 325°. Butter an 8-inch square cake pan. Sift, then measure 1½ cups Monarch Pastry Flour. Add ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt. Sift together twice; return to sifter. Cream until soft 6 tablespoons shortening for a mixture of butter and shortening. Gradually blend in 1 cup fine granulated sugar, and cream well. Beat 2 eggs until thick. Add to creamed mixture, a little at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in 2 ounces unsweetened chocolate, melted. Measure ¼ cup milk; add ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Sift the dry ingredients into creamed mixture, alternately with additions of flavored milk, making 3 dry and 2 liquid additions and combining lightly after each. Turn into prepared cake pan and spread evenly; drop pan on table 2 or 3 times to expel large air bubbles. Bake in a rather slow oven, 325°, about 35 minutes. Let stand on wire cake rack for 10 minutes, then remove from pan to cake rack.

SEVEN MINUTE FROSTING

Measure into top of double boiler 1 cup granulated sugar, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 3 tablespoons cold water, few grains salt, and add 1 unbeaten egg white. Place over rapidly-boiling water and, using a rotary beater, beat constantly for 7 minutes or until the frosting is stiff enough to stand in peaks—scrape down sides of saucepan once or twice during cooking period. Remove from heat and beat in ¼ teaspoon vanilla (or other flavoring to taste). Pour on cold cake immediately and very quickly spread over top and sides.

So easy to adjust your favourite recipes to MONARCH CAKE and PASTRY FLOUR

For each cupful of hard-wheat flour required in your old recipe, simply add 2¼ tablespoons when you use Monarch Flour. This addition is required because, by actual weight, Monarch Flour is lighter. In every 7-pound bag of Monarch Flour, there are seven cups more flour than in the same weight of hard-wheat flour.

Red Deer Expects Great Building

RED DEER.—Despite some noticeable drop in real estate prices, building conditions in Red Deer are experiencing a boom which is said in some quarters to be one of the highest in the city's history.

Counting in many buildings started last year and not completed, present building figures including those indicated, as well as actually committed to build will amount to nearly $700,000. Included in this list this year are two new schools for the Red Deer public school board and several large two-story blocks, as well as many private homes.

Forestburg Students Cribbage Sponsors

FORESTBURG.—Twenty-four couples took part in the second cribbage tournament held by the high school students' union March 31.

Winners in the primary event were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Coult with W. E. Bennett and John Repchou of the C.N.R. bridge crew second. In the secondary event the younger generation showed up the adults when Keith Fossen and Stanley Haupt won by a close margin from Kenneth Willing and Wayne Moore.

Rodino Residents Wed Fifty Years

VIKING.—Residents of the Rodino district near here, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad R. Powell observed their 50th wedding anniversary recently. Twenty-one neighbors and friends held a surprise party. Mr. and Mrs. Powell were married at Indian Head, Sask., in March, 1897. They have been residents of the Rodino district for the past 40 years.

MILLET.—The Rebekah Locomotive lodge held a most enjoyable card party last week in the L.O.O.F. hall, where some 40 people enjoyed the entertainment provided. High-Five was played, the winners for the evening being Mrs. C. Theriault and Mr. Fred Blades, while the consolation prize went to Mrs. F. McManus and Mr. E. Blades, the ladies of the lodge served lunch. — The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Harkness was the scene of a very successful card party when over 50 people gathered. Five Hundred was the game played, the top scores were made by Mrs. E. Ganaki and W. Marr with Mrs. Martin Nelson and Ray Brennan taking the consolation prizes. Refreshments were served by the hostess. — A very successful week-end was held in the Telford school at which the whole community took part. High scores for the evening went to J. V. Crough and Lloyd Benedetto and low scores to Mrs. H. A. Law and Harold Coles. — The St. Norbert Alter society held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. Zayorkowski. Owing to the deplorable state of the side roads the meeting was not well attended. — The Millet Curlers club held its final meeting of the season at the club house. Board at Veteran Elects J. Sims VETERAN.—Annual meeting of the Veteran community board of trade was held recently and due to the road conditions the attendance was not large as there were no country members present.

J. L. Sims was re-elected president and J. H. Snyder as secretary-treasurer. Other officers elected were vice-president, T. Laycraft; membership committees, I. J. Sims, G. Tkach and T. Dawson; sports, H. Myhre and J. H. Ballentine; roads, T. Thullen; entertainment, R. T. Vigar and R. A. Melin; town beautification, R. E. Thullen; building, J. McDonald. Each committee to have the power to add to its number.

The condition of the district roads came in for considerable discussion. The main road east is practically impassable for anything except a saddle horse, however, it is understood that the board of trade has been assured by the department of public works that the highway east will be built as soon as possible this year.

The road to Hemaruka has been snowbound all winter and it was decided to take this matter up with the special area board to see if the grade can be raised and an all-year road provided linking up with the portion north from Youngstown.

A general clean-up of the village streets and lanes will be undertaken as soon as the snow and frost will permit. Fire prevention measures were brought up and it was decided that the installation of an electric pump in the town well, on the rink site, be taken up with the village and rink authorities.

Telephone Company Elects Secretary

MILLET.—Executive of the Millet West Telephone Company met recently in the office of H. Buchak and the resignation of J. C. Wagner, secretary-treasurer, was accepted. R. C. Mullen was made the new secretary-treasurer.

Plans are under way to have the main line rebuilt during the summer. Chairman of the meeting was Thomas H. Howe.

Living costs in Colombia rose 36.3 points last year.

Millet Will Plan Annual Sports Day

MILLET.—Plans for the annual sports day will be discussed at a future meeting of the Millet board of trade, this action being taken at the last meeting of the board.

During the business meeting it was decided by the board to take action to have that part of the Edmonton-Calgary highway through Millet kept in better condition. Arrangements may be made by council to interview Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, in regard to the town portion of the highway.

Outline of the board's work was given by W. Puc.

To Present Bell Red Deer Ship

RED DEER.—Formal presentation of the bell from H.M.C.S. Corvette "Red Deer" will be made to the City of Red Deer at a public ceremony to be held on the Red Deer city square on Friday, April 11. A color parade of 34 boys from the Red Deer Sea Cadets will take part in the organization of the ceremonies.

Cmdr. Jackson of Tecumseh at Calgary and Lt. D. Rayborn, also of Calgary will make the presentation. It is thought the bell will be turned over by the city to the Red Deer sea cadets ship the "Admiral Cunningham."

Grant Buildings Horse Association

RED DEER.—The light horse association was granted the use of one of the large barns at the Red Deer fair grounds at the regular meeting of the fair grounds commission held in the city hall.

Other business dealt with by the commission included the setting out of the works program to be carried on at the fair grounds this summer. A start will be made on the building of a modern sales ring this year, and work on this will be carried out as far as the 1947 budget will allow.

General maintenance and improvement will again be carried out this year as has been done during the past two years. Commission is composed of J. Drever, president; Alderman Jack McAfee, Alderman A. D. Bower and Frank Stewart, grounds superintendent.

Purpose of the commission is to control use of the grounds, improve the present equipment and add to the facilities as far as annual grant of funds and revenue will permit. George Nechkin, city clerk, is the secretary.

Boom in Building Seen for Lacombe

LACOMBE.—Another big building program is anticipated this year as building permits taken out at the town office show erection, alteration or moving of buildings to a total value of $41,806 is planned. This figure is only an estimate. It is expected the total value for which permits have been taken out, will pass the $50,000 mark.

All buildings are expected to be completed during current building season, although it is believed that material and labor shortages might make it impossible to fully complete some of the projects.

SELL 1,000 LICENSES

RED DEER.—More than 1,000 automobile and truck licenses have been sold here during the past week. As road conditions improve it is expected the sales will be greatly increased.

ELECTED COUNCILLOR

PERRYVALE.—Antonio Aloisio was elected councillor of the new enlarged municipal district, defeating two other nominees. The enlarged district was formerly known as the Nelson M. D.

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

THE TWO TITLES WHICH THE YMCA TOLLERS and Y Intermediates have won at Calgary make a total of five championships which Edmonton basketball teams have captured during the current playing season.

University of Alberta Golden Bears hold the senior men's provincial championship, Army and Navy Pats, the Alberta women's intermediate, and YMCA TOLLERS, the Alberta junior, and Y Intermediates are the "B" division titlists.

In addition the University Golden Bears took the Rigby trophy, which is emblematic of the Western Intercollegiate championship, having defeated both Manitoba and Saskatchewan Universities.

The only Alberta title which has been missed out of the five competed for was the men's intermediate "A", which the University Bears lost to New Dayton on the latter's home floor in a two-game total point series after delecting the first game.

Hershey Fans are Rabid

THERE ARE FEW HOCKEY TEAMS on the continent that enjoy as rabid a following as the Hershey Bears. Fifteen years ago when the Bears made their bow in the Eastern Amateur League, the game was unknown in the district. Hershey, Pa., a town of only 2,500 situated 15 miles from Harrisburg, draws from as far away as a hundred miles.

Now practically every game in the beautiful arena is played before capacity crowds of 8,000. And Herb Penniston, popular coach of the Bears who polished off Cleveland Barons in jig time and are now making it extremely tough for Pittsburgh Hornets, is just finishing his second season as coach of a professional club.

Could be that too, that Pete Slobodian is going to be on a championship club again this season. Pete, Hershey defenceman, was with Calgary's Allan Cup Stampede last spring—and Jack Arbour probably wishes he could use Pete for the Kimberley Dynamiters game tonight. Andy Brannigan, Babe Pratt and Hymie Bulter are Slobodian's rear-guard mates this year.

They're Keen in Omaha Too

THE FANS MAY BE RABID in Hershey, but apparently they haven't much, if anything, on the hockey customers in Omaha, now waiting for the survivor of the Kansas City versus Fort Worth semi-final.

In illustrating how keen the fans were in United States Hockey League cities, Harry Ernest mentioned here the other day, that in Omaha seats go on sale for the next game 10 minutes after the commencement of a league fixture in that city.

The lineup starts to form almost immediately after the opening whistle and so a substantial portion of the crowd always misses most of the first period in order to secure seats for the next game.

Neves Likes His Gin Rummy

CP'S ALAN HARVEY TELLS one on Jockey Ralph Neves. It seems that Maine Chance Farm offered Ralph the mount on Jet Pilot in the Kentucky Derby, but Neves said no, as he didn't want to leave his daily gin rummy game with Joe Cohen, assistant manager of Tanofan track in San Bruno, Calif. So Maine Chance offered to pay Cohen's expenses east as a rummy companion if Neves would sign... no report of results to date.

Denny Layzell, Calgary Herald, writes that more than 300 thoroughbreds are now assembling at western Canada's three major racing centres preparing for the opening day of the prairie racing season at Calgary May 24.

Calgary has 200 on hand, while Winnipeg has 84 and 45 are training at Edmonton. More than 100 horses now in the west raced on Ontario, West Coast and United States courses late last year.

Athletic Clubs

Meeting April 10

The co-ordinating committee of the four athletic clubs (Canadian, EAC, Maple Leaf and South Side) has called a meeting for 8 p.m. Thursday, April 10, in the school board office, Civic Block.

This meeting is to discuss the question of forming a junior rugby football league in Edmonton and

Coast Basketball

VANCOUVER, April 5 (CP)—University of British Columbia intermediate "A" Thunderbirds swamped Kamloops Klippers 51-28 in the first game of a two-game total point series for the British Columbia intermediate "A" basketball title here last night.

All those interested are invited to attend.

Over 3 Billion Bet Annually

Football Pools Big Business

LONDON, April 5—More than three billion dollars—almost the equivalent of the last US loan to Britain—are wagered in the British Isles annually through football pools.

Football pools, a national pastime prior to World War II, are now taking so great a share in Britain's general boom in sports that they have become the seventh largest industry in the country.

Betting on football through the pools has captured the enthusiasm of all members of the family more than any other form of gambling, but the total betting pool, including horseracing, greyhound racing, and football, nears seven billions.

MORE THAN 75,000 persons are employed regularly by football pools, another 25,000 as part-time workers.

All betting is done through the mails by coupon. The better marks his coupon with symbols; "1" means the home team is expected to win, "2" predicts a win for the visitors, and "x" foretells a draw.

No national gamble has ever reached the proportions of the present football pools. Coupon traffic now composes such a significant fraction of the mails, football pools had to be temporarily suspended so the post office could handle the normal Christmas mail traffic.

MAGAZINES ARE published whose chief purpose is to give advice on how to fill in coupons. Newspapers also give the pools complete coverage.

Biggest of the flourishing football pool enterprises is Littlewoods of Liverpool.

Littlewoods handles $2,000,000 weekly, pays out 100,000 winners. Bets are limited from a quarter to $25.00. The average stake is about 75 cents.

The profits of the individual pool promoters is not disclosed, but operators claim after deducting expenses they extract no more than a 20 per cent commission, the rest going into the pool and back to the winners.

COUPONS ARE CHECKED between Saturday afternoon and midday Monday, accurately and with trickery ruled out. The current of coupons is processed as scientifically as a raw material in any other kind of factory, first geo-

Boxing School, who is unable to accompany the boys south; Jim McGregor, 135, novice; Nestor Ludwick, provincial featherweight champion, and Alf Tansey of the Maple Leaf Boxing Club. Others who will make the trip, but are not included in the photo, are: Oscar Kruger, Bob Bacon, Walter Kozak, Benny Gustafson, Maurice Ascalier, Billy Gow and Hugh McDonald.

Track Interest Mounts

Making Early Plans For Dominion Meet

Considerable of the activity existing in the Edmonton Recreation Commission offices in the Civic Block these days is concerned with making plans for the Canadian track and field championships, sponsored by the commission, to be held at Clarke Stadium on July 25th and 26th.

Thousands of circulars and announcements have been dispatched in the mails and there are still more to go to points from ocean to ocean.

HUNDREDS OF letters have already arrived at the office desk asking for full information about the program, and the many other questions which are asked indicate that the city will have many visitors, some of them for the first time. These letters to date bear the postmarks of eight of the Canadian provinces as well as seven of the States.

Officials of the Amateur Athletic Union and the Women's Athletic Federation throughout Canada are offering the greatest co-operation and in several cases will also act as chaperones and with their previous experiences be informants as to many matters usually connected with travelling parties. There is great interest being taken in the Edmonton competitions because of the certain bearing the results may have in the consideration to be later given by the Canadian Olympic Committee as to choice of candidates who will aspire to be among the coveted athletes qualifying to represent Canada in the 1948 Olympics to be held in England.

THE ENTRY FORMS for these dates will be issued by the Commission this week and will contain a list of some 50 events of running, throwing and jumping divided among the senior and junior men, and the senior and junior women classes.

Special attention will be given to having meet officials of experience and several invited visitors will be among those operating the watches and measuring tapes.

TRANSPORTATION with special rates and facilities are being looked after in co-operation with railroad officials and there will be several sleeping car parties from Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver, so that many of the athletes may travel together and have the chance of getting acquainted on the way and formulate their ideas into entertainment during the travel days.

The entertainment committee will prepare plans for the visitors who may have the time to prolong their stay in Edmonton to enjoy golf, tennis, swimming, ball games, "seeing the City", and perhaps some nearby lakes, or trips to the National parks, all of which should be a contrast for those who may still retain memories of conditions in other provinces during the late winter and more or less recent weeks.

THE COMMISSION has also lined out a program for committees as to reception, housing, finances, advertising, grounds and others; and one feature will be the effort to have more permanent dressing room space provided at the stadium.

Summing the whole project, the commission officials have adopted a resolution to make these dates pre-eminent in Edmonton track and field occasions, of course also dependent on the help of the general Edmonton citizenry and the already promised co-operation of several Service Clubs. A special request has been made that any relative athlete or friend, who they think might be interested as to these July days would phone the Commission office, 27037, giving the name and address of such athlete. The officials will gladly mail out information to them at once.

Locke Is Praised By U.S. Golfers

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5 (AP)—Bobby Locke, the South African golfing champion, has earned the praise of his American opponents at the 11th annual Masters tournament.

LOCKE'S FEAT of beating Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., in a recent series of matches in South Africa made the 29-year-old former fighter pilot the centre of attention here.

The "fast" greens and lush turf of the 6,800-yard National course, however, have caused the smooth-stroking South African considerable trouble, and the larger American ball also has bothered him, he says.

Locke, says Snead, is as good a putter as he has ever seen, and "is remarkable around the greens with his chipping." Locke admits that his game is not so "long" as the average player but modestly adds that he offsets that with accuracy and good puttings.

OTHERS HERE also have lauded Locke's game.

Locke will compete in the United States Open at St. Louis this summer on an invitation which

Cowley Finished With Pro Hockey

BOSTON, April 5 (AP)—Bill Cowley, veteran Boston forward who holds the all-time National Hockey League scoring record, is finished with professional hockey, he told reporters after Montreal Canadiens knocked the Bruins out of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Cowley has obtained Eastern Canadian rights for a refrigeration concern.

At the same time, Bobby Bauer, centre and captain of the Bruins, said he would play next season "if it doesn't interfere with business."

Bauer, who had not planned to play this season, is going to work for his father-in-law, an Ontario skate manufacturer.

Allan Cup Play

By The Canadian Press
Nine teams remained today in the running for the Allan Cup and Canadian senior hockey championship, six in the East and three in the West. The survivor:

EAST
Moncton Hawks, Montreal Royals, Ottawa Senators, Sherbrooke St. Francis, Hamilton Tigers, Hollinger Greenhirts.

WEST
Winnipeg Flyers, Calgary Stampede, Kimberley Dynamiters.

won't require him to qualify. He will play a series of exhibitions in the meantime, the first being at Richmond, Va., on April 13 with Snead, Byron Nelson and another professional.

North Alberta Boxers Seek Provincial Titles

Fourteen fighters representing northern Alberta are included in the Edmonton contingent which leaves tonight for Cardston to take part in the Alberta boxing championships scheduled for Monday and Tuesday.

Const. C. W. (Red) McNeill, Alf Tansey of the Maple Leaf Boxing Club and Jack Berry, YMCA, are in charge of the northern entries and will accompany the team south.

A stop-over at Red Deer on the way home is planned in order that those boys eligible might be able to compete in the inter-scholastic boxing tournament there on Thursday.

"Red" McNeill also will attend the annual meeting of the Alberta Amateur Athletic Union which is being held at Cardston at the beginning of the week.

Following are the northern Alberta entries: Jerry Patsula, 70 lbs., junior; Gordon Riddell, 147 lbs., novice; Art Veness, 118 lbs., novice; James Ego, 135 lbs., novice; Buddy McDonald, 80 lbs., junior; Oscar Kruger, 90 lbs.; Bob Bacon, 100 lbs.; Walter Kozak, 110 lbs., junior; Benny Gustafson, 115 lbs., novice; Maurice Ascalier, 125 lbs., novice, all of whom are northern Alberta champions of their own respective classes.

City Basket Clubs Triumph at Calgary

YMCA TOLLERS, Y Intermediates 1946 Champions

CALGARY, April 5 (CP)—Two classy Edmonton hoop teams walked off with Alberta championships in the junior and intermediate "B" division as the result of games played here, Thursday night and Friday afternoon.

In the night fixture, Edmonton Junior TOLLERS defeated North Hill 34-43 to capture the home and home series by a 119 to 84 count. In the first game TOLLERS were successful by a 68-41 margin.

THE AFTERNOON contest saw Edmonton YMCAs gain the intermediate "B" crown when they defeated Spring Coulee 81-32 in a sudden-death contest. In an exhibition opener, Mount Royal College Juniors turned in the only Calgary win by defeating Edmonton Y. Hornets 46-24.

Stepping on to the floor with a 24 point margin, Edmonton TOLLERS had little trouble winning the junior title. North Hill hoopers gave a great display but were unable to cope with the fast-breaking style of the Northerners who also displayed great control around the basket and capitalized on most of their opportunities. Woodman paced TOLLERS to victory with 20 points while Majakje proved a standout for Calgary with 16.

EDMONTON 'Y' had too much power and experience for the Spring Coulee quintet in the intermediate playoff and had little difficulty turning in their victory with an overwhelming margin. Carlyle and Harris paced the winners with 22 and 18 points respectively. T. Thompson topped Spring Coulee with 16 points.

Mount Royal College Cagers handed the northern lads their only defeat when they edged the strong Hornet quintet 46-24. Irving led Calgary's hoopers with 15 points and Binkley topped Hornets with seven.

TOLLERS—Woodman 20, Barnes, McLaughlin 1, McDonald 6, Chinnick 4, Atkinson 2, Culbert 2, McDiarmid, Chapman 7, Dwyer 7, Total 84.

NORTH HILL—Bancroft 8, Martini 6, Purvis 3, Carney 1, Ratcliff 4, Fries 2, Southern, Majakje 16, Wylie 5, Pollock 4, Total 43.

EDMONTON 'Y'—Bradshaw 8, Herber 4, Thomas 5, Cranmer 1, Malin 10, Harris 18, Carlyle 22, Total 81.

SPRING COULEE—Bishop 2, Long, Boldt 1, T. Thompson 15, Ripley 6, Wood 4, F. Thompson 3, Total 51.

EDMONTON HORNETS—Brinkley 7, Martin 8, McMann 1, Mine 5, Smith 2, Richards 4, Starrat, Knight, Total 34.

MOUNT ROYAL—Edgar 3, Irving 15, Pierce 14, Keir, Tenen 16, Keir, Holt 2, Cruikshank 2, Kennedy, Total 64.

Officials—Reg Houghton and Ed Tomick.

Curling's Grand Finale

Gauld's Rink Takes Invitation Bonspiel

Edmonton rinks made a clean sweep in the Granite Curling Club's Easter Invitation bonspiel, which rung the curtain down on another successful season. Officials were preparing to close down the artificial ice plant last night.

Perched at the top of the heap with five straight victories was C. Gauld of the Granite, who won the primary event by defeating his clubmate, Bob Price 7-4 in a closely-contested final. The secondary competition went to Bill White of the Royal, who overcame Watt Jackson, Granite, 10-4, while Ned Rivers, Granite, edged out George Sjolte, Camrose, 8-7 in the Hard Luck final.

A TOTAL of 16 rinks, six from the Granite, one from each of the other four city clubs, and six from out of town, competed in the one-day affair, which produced some of the best curling of the season.

The Hard Luck final stole the show. Sjolte and Rivers were tied 7-7 coming home and the Camrose skip had the last rock. Rivers came through with a beautiful angle raise on his last rock to tie shot. Sjolte's only hope for victory lay in his ability to draw to the "button" and he played a little narrow. His rock wicked off the side of a well-placed guard, and a tensely-fought match was all over.

THE OUTSIDE rinks represented the towns of Camrose, Sedgewick, Wetaskiwin, Vegreville, Calmar and Barrhead.

The Primary final was another thriller. Gauld got away to a 3-0 lead on the first two ends, but at the end of the 7th he was only out in front 5-4. He counted singles on the next two ends and the match ended before all the rocks had been thrown in the 10th.

White moved into a 4-1 lead in the first three ends in the secondary and was never headed against Jackson. He counted singles on the fourth and fifth and clinched the game with a four on the 7th.

Following are the scores by ends and the rink personnel of the finalists:

Gauld: 130 101 011-7
Price: 003 010 100-4
C. Gauld (skip), W. Spencer, C. Ritchie, G. Worlton.
Bob Price (skip), Hank Wolfe, Ted Mairs, Ed Hall.
103 110 40-10
Jackson: 010 001 02-4
W. White (skip), Doug Brown, Jack Samson, Sam Murphy.
010 201 201 1-4
Rivers: 003 000 010 0-7
Sjolte: 003 000 010 0-7
Ned Rivers (skip), Chuck Weigand, W. Hutton, A. Inkpen.
George Sjolte (skip), Jack Wallis, T. Kirkland, P. Rose.

Major Baseball To Adopt Pension Plan

CINCINNATI, April 5 (AP)—Adoption of the major league baseball players' pension plan, effective as of April 1, was announced Friday by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The plan includes both annuity and life insurance benefits, the commissioner's office said.

With but one exception, the program sets the retirement age of a player, coach or trainer at 50 years and provides annuities from $50 to $100 per month for life. It also stipulates that these personnel be insured by the clubs for from approximately $5,000 to $10,000 of group life insurance as long as they are on a major league club roster.

Pat Fastballers May Re-Organize

Possible re-organization of the Army and Navy Pats girls' fast-ball club was seen last night when Clare Hollingsworth, who piloted the team for almost a score of years before the club decided to disband operations last spring, stated that he had received a number of requests from top players to re-organize the popular aggregation.

Following an unbroken stretch of 18 years in senior girls' competition, the Pats dropped out of the local picture last summer, but appear now to be considering entering the Kingsway league again this season.

Manager Hollingsworth is anxious to learn immediately what players are available and would lineup with the Pats, and asks those interested to contact him by phoning 83896. Whether or not there will be a Pats club this summer will depend largely upon this request for players.

SAN FRANCISCO WINS 5-1

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5 (AP)—Pouncing on another of Seattle's former major leaguers, this one like Pearson, the San Francisco Seals scored a 5-1 victory over the Rainiers last night to take a 3-1 lead in the final series.

The Seals got to Pearson for 10 hits which produced two runs in the opening frame and three in the seventh. Young Bob Cheneveth held the Rainiers to seven well-spaced singles but allowed one Seattle run in the third.

Expect Joe DiMaggio Will Join Yanks Soon

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla., April 5 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, still limping from his Jan. 7 heel operation, will miss opening day but he may surprise skeptics who think he won't play for New York Yankees before June 1.

Left behind with Dr. Mal Stevens, coach Frank Grosetti and a skeleton squad of pitchers and catchers when the main unit left last night for Atlanta en route north, DiMaggio never was more eager to play baseball.

"I'M ANXIOUS to get in there as soon as I can," he said. "I want to make the real test and find out just how much I have left. Honestly, I think at 32 I have plenty left."

Joe's vanity was wounded by the many off-season references to the "bad year" he had in 1946. He fully realizes it was not up to the DiMaggio pre-war standard.

"HOW MANY players had better years than I did?" he asked with reason. Although he was 16th on the list of 100-game regulars in batting average, at .290 few topped his 95 runs batted in and 23 home runs. He is sure that was not a true picture of his career.

Yesterday he worked out with the Yankees for the first time, wearing a moccasin-type slipper on his left foot. First time up he smashed a screaming drive over the fence, foul by inches.

Says Clancy May Become Coach

MONTREAL, April 5 (CP)—The Gazette said today in a sports page story that it had learned from an authoritative source that coach Johnny Gottselig would be moved into a front office job with Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League and that Frank (King) Clancy, NHL referee, would be offered the coaching spot.

The paper said that Clancy, now in Toronto, had not appeared "too surprised" to hear the report in a long-distance telephone conversation with a Gazette reporter.

However, the paper said Clancy insisted that as yet the Chicago Club had not approached him. Clancy was quoted as saying that he would "consider" any offer.

West Juvenile

WINNIPEG, April 5 (CP)—Winnipeg Monarchs defeated the Saskatoon Royals 6-4 here last night before 1,000 fans in the first game of a two-game, total-goal series for the Western Canada juvenile hockey championship. The second game will be played here tonight.

Junior Puck Final To Resume Tonight

MOOSE JAW, Sask., April 5 (CP)—Moose Jaw Canucks and Brandon Elks will resume their battle for the Abbott Cup and the Western Canada junior hockey title here tonight with Elks leading 2-1 in the best-of-seven series and one game tie. Balance of the series is booked for Regina.

Both squads emerged without injury from Thursday night's game, won by Canucks 5-3 and neither coach plans any changes in his lineup.

Although the Elks still remain favorites and feel that the defeat was merely a bad game out of their system, Canuck supporters took hope from the return to form of Metro (Marvellous) Prystai who banged in two goals after going the first three games without a counter.

Prystai, billed for Chicago Black Hawks next year as the Saskatchewan League's leading scorer with 88 points.

Our Town

By Jack Scott

Litter

Have a cigar.
It's seven bouncing pups at our house and all of them silk black and pink-footed, are doing well, lined up at the soda fountain 24 hours a day and growing visibly. We haven't had so much excitement since the chimney was on fire.

There has been a wonderful change in Annie. Annie has been a lovable dog, but you could never say that she had much character or poise. Motherhood has brought a new dignity and seriousness to her. She acted mightily silly during her confinement, but when the crucial moment came around she behaved like a veteran. The tenderness and pride of a dog for its pups is a very pleasant thing to witness.

The identity of the father is still a mystery. The pups, five boys and two girls, if I know anything about it, are jet black, and so earlier suspicions of Mike, an Irish setter, have apparently been groundless. We now suspect a transient Boston bull, name unknown. We didn't even get his license number.

Except for one we have already called. The runt the pups look like. The runt is about half the size of the others, or about as big as a pine cone, and is almost always at the bottom of the heap. He makes a noise like a squeaky rocking chair, and is by far the most vocal of the seven. Little dogs and little humans almost always are.

The whole experience has been a fine education for the Little Princess, and, as a maternity room attendant, I've learned a few things myself. Cluny Brown, the cat, is next on the list and the population should be increasing again any day. What devils we are at our place!

Shock

Friend of mine named Janet who is looking for an apartment has just phoned up pleased as Punch, to announce that her latest tip on a suite has failed miserably. She telephoned the landlady, it seems, and yes, there was a vacancy.

Landlady: "Have you any children?"
Janet: "No."

Landlady: "I'm sorry, we only take people with children."
My friend Janet said there was no roll of drums or clash of cymbals or bolt of lightning, but otherwise it was a pretty dramatic moment.

Subsidy

As I've suggested one or two times, I get a little fed up with the trash on commercial radio.

Club Rooms Are Damaged

Fire about 4 p.m. Friday caused considerable damage to the Imperial Clubrooms Association club room, 9634 Jasper avenue. The building is also known as the Palace Gardens.

The blaze was confined to the kitchen in the north east section of the building on the second floor. A piano and other pieces of furniture were damaged. Firemen said that the cause of the fire is unknown.

Prompt action on the part of firemen from halls two, five and eight under Fire Chief James MacGregor kept the flames from spreading and soon had the fire under control using six lines of hose.

Jack Chapman, president of the BICA, said no insurance was carried.

"Little or no damage was suffered by the Imperial Wholesale company, located on the lower floor. The dry goods which are handled by the firms were covered with tarpaulins to prevent water damage.

The building is owned by Joseph White, who is at present in Vancouver.

Sweden May Lose Canadian Trade

Sweden, "tied up" with Russia in a 10-year trade agreement for machinery and raw materials, may lose some of her trade she formerly had with Canada and the U.S., but the Swedes have little choice in the matter, bordering on the Soviet Union as the country does.

THIS WAS the view expressed here Saturday by Erik Berg, Stockholm, who is in Edmonton in the course of a tour of Canada as representative of seven Swedish news papers.

Swedish trade with Canada is still in large volume, however, Mr. Berg stated. Sweden's high grade iron ore, which formerly went in large quantities to Germany is now going to the U.S. and Canada, to England and South American countries, he said. Trade and shipping offices have been opened in Montreal.

Sweden purchases large quantities of Canadian wheat.
PRIMARY OBJECTIVE of the newspaperman's trip to Canada is to visit and talk to some of the more than 100,000 people of Swedish origin now living in Canada. He is visiting farming communities in particular.

Sweden has a high regard for Canada and Mr. Berg says he finds little difference between the peoples of the two countries.

He personally has a high regard for the young people of Canada.

RENEWED FOR its advanced social legislation, Mr. Berg revealed that persons born in Sweden can immediately qualify for old age pensions and other benefits no matter how long they have lived abroad.

While in Edmonton the Swedish newspaper representative has been introduced around by Carl Berg, prominent Edmonton Labor official, also a native of Sweden. They are not related.

As Easter Bunny Makes Visit

Prices of Chocolate Bars, Boxed Candy Are Going Up

That expensive denture, the sweet tooth, becomes more costly as the Easter Bunny makes his annual visit here according to information which Edmonton confectioners received on Saturday morning.

SUPPLIERS NOTIFIED JOBBERS and dealers on Saturday that chocolate bars were to cost the consumer eight cents each effective immediately and that bulk and boxed chocolates were to retail for 25 per cent higher prices than were maintained under the now lifted price ceilings.

The decontrol order, issued this week in Ottawa, gives manufacturers their first opportunity to charge prices in accordance with the increased costs of cocoa beans and other ingredients one wholesale said Saturday.

Asked if the price increase would apply to goods now on the retailers shelves, the reply was that since stocks in any case were negligible, it wouldn't make a great deal of difference if retailers applied the price boost at once.

Other confectioners, contacted just after business opened Saturday morning, had no knowledge of prices being raised but thought notification was in the morning mail. All will have been notified officially by noon and the prices rise will become universal on Monday morning it was stated.

TO PRESIDE: Harold C. Melness, Grande Prairie president of the Alberta Teachers' Association, who will preside at the convention scheduled here Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Keys in Ignition, Autos Missing

Leaving keys in the ignition of parked automobiles always has proved a bad practice and Friday further evidence of this was brought to the attention of city police, by two automobile owners, who reported their vehicles stolen. They had left the keys in the ignition.

Walter E. Hooper, 12027 102 Street, said his blue colored automobile bearing Saskatchewan license number 84-559 was stolen between 9:15 and 11:30 p.m. Friday from 101 Street about a half block south of Jasper.

A 1941 blue colored sedan, property of J. L. McMillan, 9636 149 Street, was stolen from in front of 10133 115 Street. The auto bears Alberta license number 1-528.

Scouts Assist In Cancer Drive

Window cards asking for support for the forthcoming cancer campaign were distributed in the city Saturday morning by Boy Scouts of St. Faith's No. 2 troop.

The Northern Alberta Cancer Committee is appealing to merchants to display the cards as prominently as possible to help out in the fight against cancer, Canada's No. 2 killer.

Oppose Marriage Divorced Persons

To discourage marriages of divorced persons is the aim of the Edmonton Presbytery of the United Church of Canada. The presbytery is in agreement with recommendations of the general council.

When divorced persons appear before a clergyman of the United church seeking to be married, their request will be considered only by a minister stationed in the pastorate. He will notify the presbytery of his intention to marry the couple, or ask its advice on the matter according to the new plan discussed by United church presbytery.

This is designed to discourage divorced persons from the idea that they can get married in a church discard the marriage as a bad job, and then get married in another ceremony, said United church clergymen in Edmonton today.

As Result of Decontrols Laborites See Demand For Wage Increases

The proposed 10 per cent increase in residential rentals, coupled with the increases in the prices of every day food requirements of the working man's family, is likely to lead to considerable unrest and probable demands for wage increases, in the opinion of several labor leaders here.

THOMAS STEELE, president of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, said the proposed increase in residential rentals would be a serious blow to the working man and in all probability a reaction would be adopted protesting the proposed increase.

He said that a special committee of the council was investigating the cost of living increases in Edmonton, and was expected to report on its findings within the next few weeks. He said that living costs were extremely high, and were considerably above the index costs reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

T. C. Roberts, an official of the Edmonton Labor Council, (Canadian Congress of Labor) said increased prices following decontrol of certain commodities, had increased the living costs of the workers, and further increases would be followed by demands for wage increases to balance the workers' budgets.

JOHN HAMPSON of the United Packing House Workers of America, also predicted demands for wage increases to meet the cost of living increases. Requests for a substantial increase in wages to meet increased living costs has been made by civil workers in Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver. These requests are being considered by municipal governments in the three cities.

Ben Swankey, an executive of the floor of the Labor Progressive party, said the announced reaction to increase residential rentals is in direct opposition to the previews of the people. LABOR VETERANS and housewives' organizations throughout Canada have made representations to the Dominion government against removal of rental controls on residential properties. This proposed increase coupled with price increases of other commodities which have taken place following removal of controls, will lead to wage increase demands, Mr. Swankey said.

He said that rental controls should be maintained at their present levels until the housing shortage had been considerably eased. It also brings to the forefront the need for a plan of subsidized housing.

Lifting of rental controls while there is still a serious shortage of housing for people with low and moderate incomes was termed "foolish" by Executive Secretary W. J. Williams, A.M.A. of Edmonton Canadian Legion Branch No. 24.

"WAR VETERANS and laboring people will suffer great hardship with the lifting of controls on rentals," Mr. Williams said. "I think the Dominion government is inviting quite a bit of trouble by the action. Certain look for more labor unrest, as prices of most essential commodities are also rising steadily."

stations, but I think they have a peach of an idea in their policy of giving away money to listeners.

One idea, as you know, is to pick numbers at random from the telephone book and, if the party is listening to your station, you give him or her a cash reward.

Works out pretty well, too. A lot of people are so hard up, apparently, that they'll listen all day to any old noise on the slim chance that there'll be an easy buck in it.

I think we might well copy this idea in newspapers. In our own paper, for instance, we have several columns, including those of Elmore Philpott, Dorothy Thompson, Hapgood, Frouse, Josephine Lowman and others including myself.

We columnists are away behind the times. Here we are knocking ourselves out every day, trying desperately to make our stuff better on the out-dated, old-fashioned ideas that merit is the basis of merchandising.

If we had any sense we'd do what the radio stations are doing. Each column would have some name picked at random and placed somewhere in the type. To that happy person would go the prize of a dollar or two. Thus assured of a guaranteed subsidized clientele we wouldn't have to go through the daily torture of trying to better our product. Might even just fill up the column with ads, another smart idea of the commercial stations.

There might be a certain hesitation in feeling it was necessary to pay anybody to read (or listen to) your stuff, but this doesn't seem to bother the radio stations. Doesn't seem to bother the listeners, either, which is the surprising thing about it.

U.S. Farms Hit By Soil Erosion

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 5.—(AP)—More than half of the United States' farmlands have been seriously injured by soil erosion, and unless the country goes all out for land conservation, the United States might wind up a second-rate power, Agriculture Secretary Anderson asserted today.

Anderson, in a speech here, said 282,000,000 acres of crop and grazing land either had been ruined or badly damaged. He added that another 775,000,000 acres of crop, grazing, forest and other land show scars of considerable erosion.

Anderson said each year erosion is estimated to cost the country close to $4,000,000,000.

He said China, Babylon, Greece and Rome once were great powers, but soil erosion had caused their downfall.

This Balloon Went Up
WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—Somewhere above the Maryland coast, moving slowly out to sea, a wayward barrage balloon drifted last night.

THE BALLOON, 35 feet long and 15 feet wide, escaped at 11:05 a.m. from the War Assets Administration. It left Washington at once.

Tagging along with it, on a part-time basis, were one army and three navy planes.

Until yesterday, this balloon had had a reputation as a steady, serious worker.

For two weeks it hovered in the Washington air, a floating advertisement that the WAA had 3,700 such balloons for sale at $104 apiece.

FRIDAY THE NYLON rope worked loose, and before you could say "War Assets Administration" it was gone.

Official Washington sprang into action.

Moviedom Aids Former Cover Girl

Hollywood Mending the Heart Of Lippy Leo's Ex-Girl Friend

By Althea Mosby

HOLLYWOOD, April 5.—(BUP)—Hollywood has gone soft. The old cinema capital, where every hour, has turned sissy and mended one.

IT WAS Edna Ryan's ticker that got the patchwork.

Until last October she was known around New York as Leo Durocher's girl friend. But when Durocher switched affections to Laraine Day, Edna was called the gal that got the slip from The Lip.

If a heart gets broken in Hollywood, nobody gives a tinker's darn. But when Edna arrived here from New York with her heart shattered, Moviedom rolled out the red carpet.

TWO BIG STUDIOS—20th Century Fox and Warner's—called in the ex-cover girl for screen tests. She's made more friends in two months than most movie aspirants make in two years. And her friends include the man Miss Day divorced before she wed Durocher, Ray Hendricks.

"I'm very happy here," Edna told us. "I've started a new life. New York and everything that happened there is gone and forgotten. Life is so wonderful here compared to a couple of months ago."

Edna at that time was a photographer's model who lived with her family on Long Island and was Durocher's constant date.

"I'D KNOWN HIM about two years," the blonde beauty said. "My mother never exactly approved of Leo because he was nearly twice my age. But I was very fond of him."

So it was a shock when reporters phoned her to find out what she thought about Durocher's reported romance in Hollywood with Miss Day.

"I thought someone was playing a joke," she said. "I kept saying, 'You're kidding.'"

MISS RYAN said she had planned to join Durocher in Los Angeles to vacation during the baseball meetings here. The first linking she had that all was not hunky-dory was a telegram from the Brooklyn baseball manager, "Postpone your trip one week."

Edna didn't even lift an eyebrow over that, but a similar wire arrived the following week. Then Durocher wired her not to come at all.

"I was terribly hurt," Miss Ryan said. "Not at what happened, exactly, but at the way Leo handled it."

New York got to be rather uncomfortable for the lively model.

"ALL MY FRIENDS had been Leo's friends, too," she said. "I was afraid to go downtown for fear I'd see them. Everybody was talking about it."

Then she remembered that a few months previous Producer William Perlberg of Fox Studio had promised her a movie test if she ever came to Hollywood.

"So I flew west for a three weeks vacation, and the chance that Mr. Perlberg would remember me," she said. "He was very kind, and I got the test."

EDNA KNOWS it's tough to crash the movies, but her blue eyes are dry and her chin is up.

She's living with friends now, and shopping around for an apartment of her own. Her current date is Singer David Street, ex-husband of showgirl Lois Andrews.

So far Edna hasn't run into Durocher but she met Hendricks.

"David took me flying the other day at an airport Hendricks operates," she said. "Ray and I got along swell. I guess you'd say we have a lot in common."

May Become Farmers

German PW's Hope To Stay in Britain

By Norman Cribbens
GUILDFORD, Surrey, England, April 5.—(CP)—German fighting men who never succeeded in invading the British Isles by war may one day farm English fields, their right to do so peacefully acquired.

A SURPRISINGLY large number still held as prisoners-of-war seem eager to forget their German heritage and adopt Britain as their home.

A few hours after Agriculture Minister Tom Williams said that German prisoners might be "assimilated in our own population as gardeners, farm workers," command ants of prisoner-of-war camps, housing an aggregate of 330,000 German prisoners all over the country, were besieged with applications.

Here, at No. 57 PW Camp, 15 out of 600 prisoners went immediately to their commandant, Lt.-Col. A. C. N. Rowland.

"MANY MORE would have applied," Col. Rowland said, "had we not explained that no definite plan has yet been laid down or approved by Parliament."

A tour of this camp, set amid the rolling Surrey downs, indicated that at least 15 percent of all Germans now working on farms would like to settle here provided they could go home first.

"THERE WAS a time when we believed the British were a decadent people, no longer fit to govern their great possessions," said tall, clean-cut Hans Klaus of Hamburg. "The war proved we were wrong. Today when life is so hard for people in England they are as courageous as ever. Yes, I think I would be proud to be British."

He said that increased immigration to Palestine would help in restoring order and continue the steady development started in 1917.

Scientists Get Busy

Radioactive Atoms Probe Fish Secrets

HALIFAX, April 5.—(CP)—Atomic research is being carried on at Dalhousie University with one laboratory group even using it to make the lowly fish give up some of the details of its life. It was disclosed here last night.

SEVERAL PROBLEMS are under investigation involving "tracer" atoms—atoms "tagged" with radioactivity so they can be traced in and out of their various combinations—in the university laboratories.

The work is being done by members of the faculty in the department of chemistry and a few graduate students. During the college session the work is being carried on in the university's science building on Studley Campus with summer work being done in the Chalk River, Ont., laboratories of the National Research Council's atomic energy division.

"The terrific concentration of energy released when uranium atoms are split has opened tremendous fields of research in chemistry, biology and medicine," Dr. C. C. Coffin, professor of chemical research, said in an interview.

"BY EXPOSING even ordinary materials to the radioactivity of a chain reacting pile," he added, "almost every chemical element can be made radioactive without changing its chemical properties in any way."

"The basic idea of our study is the same as that employed in the 'banding' of migratory birds. Tagged atoms can reveal the course of an element or compound through the bodies of men, animals and plants, or through chemical and industrial operations."

ONE OF THE university's atomic projects involves use of radioactive phosphorus as a tracer in fish metabolism and the investigation of other fisheries problems.

Compensation Act Hearings Planned

Public meetings to hear representations from labor and other groups will be held during the year by a committee set up by the Legislature to study the Workmen's Compensation Act, according to an announcement by Dr. J. L. Robinson, (Social Credit MLA for Medicine Hat), committee chairman.

AN ORGANIZATION meeting of the committee was held this week, and R. A. Anderson, clerk of the Legislative Assembly, was appointed secretary to the committee.

A report on suggested changes to the Compensation Act will be made at the next session of the Legislature.

A. E. Fee, (SC-Sedgewick); Ivan Casey (SC-Oakton-High River); N. A. Willmore (SC-Edson); H. B. Macdonald (Ind.-Calgary); A. J. E. Liesemer (CCF-Calgary); and L. D. Ward (Navy) are members of the committee.

More Nations Seek U.N. Membership

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 5 (BUP)—The United Nations may get five to 10 new members by fall, it was reported today. Nazi Germany's five former satellites—Italy, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland—probably will send membership bids to UN headquarters as soon as their peace treaties with the Allies are ratified, officials said. It was expected also that some or all of the five countries blackballing for UN seats last year would apply once more in time for consideration by the security council and the regular session of the general assembly beginning in mid-September.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney
In several recent articles I have shown hands taken from the world championship Masters in expert tournament, on which the experts went down, but that does not mean that there is no brilliant play in the tournament. Today's hand proves there is.

Although East passed the double of one spade, probably many players would come in with a two-club bid to show a hand of little strength. However, the fact that he passed helped West make his decision on the play that defeated the Contract.

When the king of spades held the first trick, West noted that his partner had played the eight-spot. Of course East might have the eight and a small spade, but West could see the ace, king, jack and ten of hearts the ace, king and queen of diamonds and ace, king and jack of clubs. Therefore he felt that if his partner had only two small spades and a long club suit, in all probability he would have bid two clubs. So at this point West led his singleton king of clubs. He knew he had little to lose, since the singleton king was dead anyway. Declarer won with dummy's ace, picked up the trumps and led the jack of diamonds. West covered, dummy's ace won and a diamond was returned which West won with the king. He led a small spade, East won with the queen and then cashed the queen of clubs—the only way that the contract could be set.

Plant in "Valley"

Planting in "valleys" is now considered better technique than planting in "hills," except in special cases. Diagram above shows "valley" planting.

Now, with the handle or a corner of your hoe, drag a shallow furrow along this line, a little deeper than recommended for the particular seed in hand. Sprinkle a little fertilizer in the bottom of the furrow, cultivate in and water with sprinkling can or hose. Cover seed with soil to the recommended depth, and tamp down firmly with the back of your hoe or a flat board. The difference between recommended depth and the depth of your furrow now creates a shallow "valley" or gully which will hold moisture instead of letting it drain off quickly.

There's no law on how deep to sow, but a good rule is: the smaller the seed, the nearer the surface. Sow shallower in clay soil than in sandy loam. And don't sow too thickly—it means just that much more thinning out later, with consequent waste of seed. Best modern practice is not to sow in hills, but in the little valleys described above. Except with potatoes, true "hill" planting is recommended only when the garden is wet and difficult to drain. Plant seeds of radishes, onion, turnip and lettuce about one-half inch deep. Fine seeds, like parsley, need no more than a quarter inch of soil above them. Corn, peas, beans and other large seeds take an inch and a half of cover.

Don't turn the hose directly on plants in your garden. Its likely to injure them and wastes water. Instead, lay the hose on the ground and let the water trickle along the row close to the roots. Remember that one good soaking is better than several sprinkles.

The smaller the mammal the faster its pulse rate.

Garden Furniture Needs Cleaning

Odd jobs for the householder during March and April include dusting off and refurbishing the summer garden furniture which lay in the attic all winter. If it is of the canvas variety, renewing the canvas and applying a fresh coat of paint can give it a sparkling newness which will add to the beauty of your lawn or garden.

Metal or rustic furniture may also need repairs. Loose arms can be secured and roughened edges smoothed so as to remove the menace to hostelry. Legs which have become decayed through contact with the earth should be renewed now before the furniture is given the test of another season.

To achieve the best results in repainting garden furniture make sure first that all loose paint, rust or dirt has been removed. In addition to garden furniture it should be kept in mind that for most garden's substantial rustic chairs or benches fit in more naturally and provide greater durability.

Roof Inspection Pays Dividends

Until the current housing demand has been at least partially caught up, maintenance in home and farm buildings becomes even more essential. With the past winter's abnormally heavy snowfall and alternate mild and cold spells buildings have taken a beating and the interlude between the end of winter storms and the onset of spring planting and gardening of trees an opportunity for a survey of possible winter damage.

Building experts point out that roof inspection in spring is an economy in that it may reveal the need for minor repairs before the deterioration progresses to the extent where a whole new roof is required. Fortunately for home and farm owners, fire resistant roofing materials such as asphalt shingles or asphalt roll roofing are now in reasonably good supply so that repairs on the installation of a new roof may be easily provided.

Architects and others have determined that a well insulated roof prevents a great heat loss and therefore helps cut fuel bills. Extra insulation can be provided by laying a new foot right over the old in order that the new shingles may be properly laid however it is important that any loose or rotted changes of the old roof must first be nailed flat. Particular attention should be paid to sealing flashings tightly and in preparing valleys to catch off rain and melting snow.

AQUELLA is Here
Powder That Waterproofed The Maginot Line
Can Now Keep Your Basement Dry and White
Aquella is a pure white flour-like powder. Mixed with water and scrubbed into the face of a concrete or brick wall, it actually penetrates the surface, then expands as they dry, sealing the surface solidly and finally Aquella unites with the material of the wall to form a hard, watertight substance which continues to harden with age. Apply Aquella to all masonry surfaces—brick, plaster or concrete blocks, stucco or cement plaster. Aquella is the positioner that may be removed water leakage dampness or seepage above or below ground on all porous masonry surfaces.
COVERAGE—On brick, about 100 sq. ft. per gallon. On rough plaster or stucco, 75 to 100 sq. ft. per gallon. On concrete, 50 to 100 sq. ft. per gallon.

Boy Advised To Complete Education

Dear Miss Dix: At what age should a man marry? I am 20, a sophomore in college, and I want to wait until I have finished school and have gotten some way of making a living by which I can support a wife in comfort. I figure that will take me until I am about 27 years old.

But the trouble is the girl I am engaged to doesn't want to wait that long. She wants to be married right away and says that she thinks it will be better for me also, because she can give me the security, happiness and courage that marriage brings to a man. What do you think?

DISCONCERTED

ANSWER: There is nothing that I believe in more firmly than the old adage that "a young man married to a young man married" I have seen so many talented and ambitious boys whose careers were wrecked by letting the girls they were in love with over-persuade them into getting married before they were ready for it.

For marriage isn't the simple proposition of two young people who love each other setting up their own home. It means added expenses and worrying over bills. It means a more costly way of living. It means added responsibilities and babies, and the wife's family, and the wife resenting her husband giving his major interests to his ambitions instead of to her.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

There are physical handicaps to learning such as poor eyesight, impaired hearing, anemia, malnutrition which might prevent a child of normal mentality from progressing in his school work. There are psychological handicaps, unpopularity, anxiety, a feeling of inferiority stemming from economic conditions in the home, which might make a child so miserable that his mind would be diverted to the unhappiness and not to the books and subjects he must master.

But when these physical and psychological handicaps have been taken into account, one is compelled to recognize there are some children mentally incapable of doing the ordinary school work. It is often difficult for the parent to acknowledge this inherent handicap. She is prone to think up a dozen reasons why the child does not advance with the other pupils, chief of which is the child's refusal to study, and partially of the teacher. A mother will say, "She is the biggest girl in her class and this makes her embarrassed so she won't study. She is bright at home and does what we ask her to do. I think her teacher doesn't like her." Another will say, "My boy plays well with younger children but can't get along with the big boys. He is two years behind in his work but the teacher thinks he would be all right if he would pay attention."

These are just two of similar appeals from the parents who must stop trying to find villains and take some realistic steps to evaluate the child's capacities.

The first and most important is to determine whether the child is mentally capable of doing the school work. This can be determined by mental tests which can be given by a clinical psychologist attached to the school or presumably to a local child guidance center.

If the child is mentally capable then the psychological or physical handicaps to learning should be sought and corrected. Barring children for inattention or failure to concentrate is time-wasteful. Know the child. Know his or her capacities and then the parent and teacher can judge more intelligently and less harshly what needs to be done for the backward one.

Our leaflet No. 46 on "Physical Handicaps of the School Child" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The condition and styling of a woman's hair makes such a difference in her appearance!

In the first place, the health of her hair is of great importance! If the scalp is too dry or too oily she should try her very best to overcome this abnormal state. Many authorities feel that thinning, and even graying hair, often has a background of a long, drawn-out, unhealthy scalp condition.

Daily massage and brushing are a "must" for the woman who hopes that her hair will remain lovely throughout the years. How often your hair should be shampooed depends on individual characteristics. If your hair is very oily, it should be washed every week. If it is quite dry, every ten days or two weeks will be best, unless it becomes dirty before then.

Diet and personal habits of life play a part in the beauty of your tresses. If you are inadequately nourished or suffer from a lowered state of health, or are highly nervous, these will be reflected in lusterless locks. Airing the hair is good for it and so is a certain amount of sunlight. Long exposure to the sun's hot rays is not recommended, and the habit of rolling the hair up at night in pin curls, is bad for it.

Hair styling has now become such an art that there is an up to date and flattering coiffure for every individual. The way you wear your hair is even more important than the becomingness of the hats you choose, because you wear your hair constantly and it has only occasional contact with the hat.

Thank heaven for the permanent wave! It is no longer sensible to shed tears when little Mary arrives in this exciting world, with straight hair, because beauty salons can give her the loveliest soft curls, whenever she needs them.

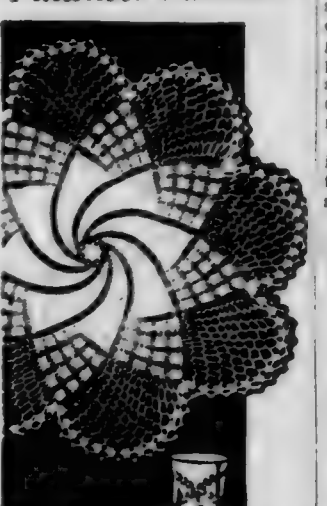

I receive many letters asking for advice concerning permanent waves. There are three main methods: the machine wave, the cold wave, the hot wave, and the cold wave. The latter is especially effective on short hair but is the trickiest of the lot because the operator must be especially trained in order to give this wave successfully. Be sure to go to a shop, or to an operator, who has had a lot of experience.

Let me save money on your operator. Her or his efficiency is the most important factor in the success of your curl. It is best to let the expert decide which kind of wave will be best for your individual hair. He knows more about it than you do. Practically all good operators give a test curl. Insist on this! Remember, too, that it is better to have too little wave than too much. Nothing is so unattractive or so old-fashioned as small tight curls.

Do not overlook the tremendous effect your hair can have on your beauty!

If you wish to have my leaflet about hair styling send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 51 "Framing Your Face Attractively" to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Nurses Placement Service Hopes Unknot Shortage

BY DELLIS CLELAND

With the end of the war, the post-war problems come crowding in.

ONE OF THESE was the shortage of nurses on an ever increasing scale—solved in part by the establishment in September 1945, of the Nurses Placement Service of Alberta, and headed by attractive Miss Margaret Cogswell.

On Tuesday Miss Cogswell moved her Alberta headquarters to centrally-located National Employment Service offices at 10013 101A avenue, and moved into her work with new, fresh vigor.

School teacher, trained nurse and university graduate, Miss Cogswell, whose groomed good looks belittle her years of administrative training, is a happy choice for a placement and counselling service which hopes to unknot the trained labor and empty starched uniform tie-up.

What is more important, she is intensely enthusiastic about her job.

"IN ALBERTA, THERE ARE 200 vacancies in all types of nursing," Miss Cogswell revealed. "Mostly we need nurses for hospitals, general duty nurses. But we also need 18 hospital superintendents, and many openings for public health nursing."

She finds that a great many of the nursing sisters who served overseas, on return to Canada, have preferred entering public health fields rather than hospitals, despite the fact that pay has recently increased in hospitals, particularly in the smaller ones. At the University of Alberta there are 27 nurses taking a post-graduate course in public health, she said.

In order to do a first-rate job, the nursing placement director personally visited 80 provincial hospitals, reaching an area from Notikewin (north) to Cardston. On these trips she interviewed nurses, held meetings and collected information on the size and types of service to enable nurses seeking employment to gain the type of position for which they are best fitted.

MISS COGSWELL ALSO checked medical clinics, and medical offices. Personal information about nurses, their academic qualifications, and references are all carefully tabulated by the director, for the aid of employers.

Co-operation of the hospital staffs in these matters is wonderful, she said, adding, "I wish we could help them as much."

Financed by the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses and the Associated Hospitals of Alberta, the service attempts to give useful advice to nurses seeking information on where to enroll in post-graduate courses, and to direct high school students intrigued with the future career of caring for the sick, just where to get their nursing training.

Entering a new field, she enrolled in nursing in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. On her graduation in 1937 she remained with the hospital for two years before taking a course in public health nursing at McGill University.

Again returning in her career to Edmonton, she combined nursing and staff teaching in the Royal Alexandra Hospital from 1940 to 1945, prior to her position as Nurses Placement chief. She lives with her mother, Mrs. E. B. Cogswell, at 1134 84 avenue.

The Book of Knowledge (Department: Things to Make and Do)

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

KNOWLEDGE—GARDEN MARK

To enable them to know just where they have planted their seeds, some gardeners place a stick in the ground and on top of this they set the packet in which the seeds were originally contained. This system has its disadvantages. Rain may soak the packet on the stick until it is impossible to make out any printing on it. Or else a gust of wind may carry off the packet. It is easy to make wooden seed-markers that will remain sturdy on duty until it is time to remove them.

The first mark that we are going to describe is simple but effective. It is to be made from a smooth board from 1/4 to 3/4 of an inch thick. Make a paper pattern of the marker, using the design in figure 1. Each square represents a square inch. Trace out this pattern on the board, and cut it out with a jig-saw if one is available. If not, use a small hand saw to cut roughly to shape and then whittle off the superfluous wood with a sharp pocket-knife. When this has been done, bevel the edges with your knife and sandpaper them to make them smooth.

On the top of the marker print the name of the plant in black or red water color and underneath this make a drawing of the fruit or vegetable in question (see figure 2). Paint the fruit or vegetable the appropriate color with water colors, then, after the paint has dried, apply a coat of shellac. When you have made as many markers as are necessary and have inserted them in their appropriate places, your garden will present a very attractive appearance.

There is another type of marker that is particularly suitable for use as a permanent nature marker. For this you will need a cylindrical stick from one and a half to two inches square.

Draw diagonals on two of the opposite sides of the block (EB and GD in Figure 3). Then saw the block into two segments, or parts—ACBDEG and BDFHEG, in figure 3. These two segments will serve for two different markers.

A hole is to be made in each segment with a gimlet or other boring tool at the place indicated in Figure 4. This hole is to be just wide enough to permit the cylindrical stick to pass into it, and it is to be at least 1/4 inch thick. Dip the cylindrical stick in wood glue and place it in the hole. If it fits too loosely, it would be well to place a little plastic wood about the sides of the hole, before you insert the stick.

Next, prepare a little slab of wood 3 inches by 4 inches by 1/4 inch. On one side print the name of the plant and make a colored painting of it with water colors. Then finish with a coat of shellac.

The next step is to place the slab in position painted side up on the side of the block opposite the cylindrical stick (see Figure 5). The slab is fastened to the block by means of wood glue. It may also be nailed or screwed to the block.

Your marker is completed. Figure 6 shows how it looks. The end of the cylindrical stick is now pointed and the stick is inserted in the ground to a depth of about six inches.

Lt. Wilkie Remembered

OTTAWA, April 6 — (CP)—A Canadian nursing sister—Agnes Wilkie of Winnipeg—was remembered Wednesday as the only one of the 48,000 Canadian service-women to have died during the Second World War as a result of enemy action.

Lt. Wilkie, who served with the Royal Canadian Navy, was on board the SS Cariboo which was torpedoed Oct. 14, 1942 while on a run between Sidney, N.B., and Newfoundland.

Seventy-one other Canadian women died while on active service with the armed forces army headquarters disclosed in announcing figures Wednesday. But their deaths chiefly were the result of disease or accident. Canadian women served in various capacities on nearly every front, and a few died as a result of the rigorous conditions under which they had to live.

FIVE MEMBERS of the Canadian Women's Army Corps and 32 members of the RCAF (WD) were wounded either as a result of enemy bombing in England or in the northwest theatre of operations.

Fourteen army nursing sisters suffered injuries while serving in Sicily.

Two army nursing sisters, Kathleen Georgina Christie, Toronto, and Anna Mary Waters, Winnipeg, were taken prisoner when Hong Kong fell in 1941. They were repatriated on the Grimsby in November, 1945.

Pin demobilization of women in the three Canadian services was completed last year when the 24,000 received their discharges. Some nurses still remain in the permanent forces and there are still a few women dietitians in the air force.

MONTREAL—(CP)—Airlines have made more progress in safety and other general improvements in the last 10 years than any other mode of transportation in the last 25. G. Bruce Miller, manager of the Northeast Airlines at Montreal airport said here.

Entering a new field, she enrolled in nursing in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. On her graduation in 1937 she remained with the hospital for two years before taking a course in public health nursing at McGill University.

Again returning in her career to Edmonton, she combined nursing and staff teaching in the Royal Alexandra Hospital from 1940 to 1945, prior to her position as Nurses Placement chief. She lives with her mother, Mrs. E. B. Cogswell, at 1134 84 avenue.

Offers $400,000 To Amateur Fliers

LONDON, April 5—(Reuters)—Lord Kemsley, prominent newspaper proprietor yesterday offered encouragement to British amateur fliers to the tune of £400,000 ($400,000). It was announced that he would make available a £100,000 fund, to be used for nominal interest loans, repayable over 25 years to stimulate development of private flying, including gliding.

Red Cross Conducts Two-Year Survey

TORONTO, April 3.—(CP)—Mental and physical effects of adequate food on growing children are being studied in a two-year survey of 600 children in old "cabbagetown" district of Toronto. The $75,000 to $100,000 cost of the demonstration will be paid by the Canadian Red Cross as part of its work for the improvement of health. Charts of measurements of children being fed a special diet will be compared against charts compiled of children eating at home of ordinary food.

More than 50 research scientists are participating in the demonstration. Red Cross officials said.

Mrs. F. McCoy Heads Mission

Mrs. F. G. McCoy was elected president of the Delta Baptist Women's Mission Circle at a meeting in the church Thursday afternoon.

Others elected were: first vice-president, Mrs. W. Brackenbury; second vice-president, Mrs. E. Scott; secretary, Mrs. W. Hooper; treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Gibb; reading secretary, Mrs. M. M. Ewen; temperance secretary, Mrs. T. Wells; flower committee, Mrs. A. Ogsten; Mrs. E. Scott; Mrs. W. Hooper; visiting committee, Mrs. E. Scott; Mrs. Wells; Mrs. A. Cummings; Mrs. R. Dean; press secretary, Mrs. R. Flanagan; pianist, Mrs. Gibb.

"GETTING ACQUAINTED with our Missions in India" was the topic which Mrs. McCoy outlined at the meeting. She illustrated her talk by showing on a map the area on the Indian east coast in the Andaman Mission Field where Canadian Baptists now have 80 missionaries.

In January more than 400 delegates attended the first session of the newly-formed Convention of Baptist churches of the northern circars, she said.

Mrs. H. Flanagan presided at the meeting, and Mrs. W. Brackenbury presented a devotional message on the 23rd Psalm.

Ladies Curling Club Elects 1947 Officers

Mrs. H. D. Dunlop was elected president of the Granite Ladies Curling Club at the annual meeting in the club room this week.

Other officers elected included: past president, Mrs. L. L. Wolfe; first vice-president, Mrs. H. F. Gainer; second vice-president, Mrs. J. M. Cummings; secretary, Mrs. W. J. Gray; treasurer, Mrs. W. J. McLeod.

Executive committee: Mrs. F. F. Law, Mrs. D. Durrand, Mrs. R. Robertson, Mrs. W. A. Johnston, Mrs. O. J. McFadyen, Mrs. T. Walker and Mrs. G. McKay.

Reports were received which showed the club is in good financial standing.

A social hour was held with cards and refreshments.

Edmonton Art Club To Hold Exhibition

The 26th annual exhibition of the Edmonton Art Club opens in the Museum of Arts Monday. Richard MacDonald, co-ordinator of cultural activities in Alberta will open the show at 8:15 p.m.

The exhibition consists of 135 paintings, water colors, oil and pastel of many different subjects, ranging from mountain flowers, portraits, landscape and sculpture. This exhibition consists of new and original work done in the last year. The show will be open to the public April 7 to 12 from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m.

Canadian Girls Will Be Eligible

HAMILTON, April 3.—(CP)—Ten Canadian girls will be eligible to compete for the title of Miss America at the Atlantic City, N.J. beauty pageant next September, it was announced Saturday.

The Canadians, to be chosen at provincial contests, will compete for the title of Miss Canada here next August. Then Miss Canada and the nine runners-up go to Atlantic City to compete for $25,000 in scholarships to be awarded to Miss America 1947 and 15 runners-up.

Lord Mancroft Dislikes ATS Girls Uniforms

LONDON, April 3.—(Reuters)—Women in the Auxiliary Territorial Service are dressed in a "humiliating combination of sackcloth and sandbags" in the opinion of Lord Mancroft, non-party peer.

Mancroft, initiating in the House of Lords Thursday a debate on reform of Britain's territorial army, said he was convinced the girls' uniform was "designed by a man who was crossing in love when young and was determined to be revenged on the whole female sex."

He was concerned about what would happen when the ATS—in which Princess Elizabeth served during the war—was awarded the traditional prefix "royal," giving it the initials RATS.

Club Calendar

MARRIED AT CHRIST CHURCH: Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Drury, who were married at Christ Church recently with the Rev. E. S. Ottley officiating. The bride is the former Miss Marjorie Alison Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster Thompson, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Drury Whitehorse, Y.T. With the bridal couple are shown Miss Shirley Thompson, bridesmaid and Ian Murray, Whitehorse, best man.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Honoring Miss Joyce Broad, bride-elect of Saturday, Mrs. Edna McGrath entertained 17 guests at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. F. Broad Thursday night. During the evening a mock wedding was performed, and later a treasure hunt which led guests to a huge decorated three-layer imitation "cake" where the bride-elect found gifts under each layer. Easter colors of mauve and yellow were used on the tea table which was set with a hand-made crocheted cloth, and centred with a rose bowl, flanked by candles and streamers of Easter hues. Tulips and daffodils were placed throughout the rooms. Serving were Mrs. McGrath and Mrs. Ralph Churchill.

Miss Isabel Inkster arrived Friday from Saskatoon and is a guest at the Macdonald hotel.

Among students from St. Hilda's school for girls in Calgary who will spend the Easter holidays in Edmonton with their families will be the Misses Lenore Meredith, Nancy Quigley, Marion Cunningham, Isabel Good and Patty Hale.

Miss Eleanor Crockett of Calgary arrived in Edmonton Friday to spend Easter week-end visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Akitt.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thomlinson of Edmonton will spend the Easter week-end in Calgary, guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Knight.

Briercrest Saddle Club will hold a spring dance in the Masonic Temple April 12. Mrs. C. W. Watson is convener, assisted by Mrs. D. A. Petrie, Mrs. J. A. Maley, Mrs. W. E. S. Armstrong, Mrs. Walter Sprague, Mrs. O. Purin and the Misses Olive Wilkinson and Damaris Batch.

Mrs. E. R. McKay and her daughter of Biggar Sask. have arrived in Edmonton for a three-day visit. They are guests at the Macdonald hotel.

All Saints Cathedral Choir Association will present the 14th annual penny reading in the parish hall Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Waterhouse and their children, Gerald, Rosemarie and Michael, have arrived from Calgary to reside in Edmonton.

Mrs. Frank Taylor and her children, Timothy and Vickie, have returned to their home in Edmonton after a week in Calgary with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Wilmoth.

Miss Robin Worthington, daughter of Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. F. F. Worthington of Edmonton, left Friday for Vancouver, where she will be a guest of Air Vice Marshall and Mrs. F. V. Heakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan G. Wilmoth are leaving Saturday on a month's visit to Toronto and New York.

Among those arriving to attend the annual Alberta Teachers' Association convention which opens Monday are Miss Emily Rowbottom of New Sarepta, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Holman of Diamond City.

350 Attend Swedish Party

Sponsored by Vasa Lodge Skandia No. 548 the Ladies Association entertained 350 guests at a "Swedish" affair at 1147 Female St. street and 112 avenue on Saturday evening. The buffet table was decorated in blue and yellow streamers, centred with the Union Jack and Swedish flag. On opposite ends of the table were silver holders with yellow and blue tapers. Mrs. Jennie Miller and Mrs. Axel Pearson presided over coffee, while Albin Samuelsen and Folke Johnson received the guests. Several members of the lodge at Ruford Faun and Camrose were visitors.

Those taking part in the program of Swedish song and folklore were Miss Dorothy Skiv, Mrs. Herbert Taylor, Bill Nease, Vic Ruston, Magnus A. Pearson and "Chuck" Albinson.

Bruce Pearson, district secretary, who has recently returned from Sweden, spoke briefly of the conditions there. Hampus Ousund, district master, spoke also and encouraged an even better fellowship among the Scandinavian people in the Alberta lodges, than they had been able to carry out during the war.

Dancing completed the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Magnus A. Pearson was in charge.

City Man Weds At Peace River

PEACE RIVER, April 3.—St. Paul's United church in Peace River was the scene of the wedding April 1, of Miss Dorothy Margaret Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Russell of Peace River, and Raleigh Paul Brunelle son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Brunelle of Edmonton. Tulips, daffodils and ferns decorated the church.

The Rev. H. G. Pritchard performed the ceremony. During the signing of the register, Miss A. P. Bott sang because.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and sheer, fashioned with a satin bodice having a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves accented with ruching, and a full skirt of satin over sheer. Her finger tip veil of English lace was held in place with a coronet of lace and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. D. R. Russell, sister-in-law of the bride, who wore a gown of powder blue net, a tiny hat of matching color and carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Best man was D. R. Russell and ushers were T. A. Norris, Jr., and A. R. Duff.

Mrs. Russell chose for her daughter's wedding a blue wool dressmaker suit with tuchia accessories and a corsage of red roses.

AFTER THE ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's table was set with a lace cloth and centred with a tiered wedding cake flanked with vases of spring flowers and lighted tapers. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. T. A. Norris, Mrs. H. G. Pritchard, Mrs. W. E. Moore, Mrs. A. MacMillan, Mrs. A. P. Bott and Miss Betty Cruikshank.

For travelling on her honeymoon the bride wore a two-piece powder blue wool frock trimmed with white and pink wool, matching hat, navy blue top coat and navy blue accessories.

Easter Lilies Setting For Wedding of Shirley Grant on a setting of Easter lilies and spring flowers, in the chapel of Metropolitan United Church Friday at 2:30 p.m. Miss Shirley Grant, niece of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Phillips of Edmonton, became the bride of Mr. Murdoch MacGregor son of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacGregor of Moose Jaw, Sask. The Rev. R. McHenry Thompson performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, the bride wore a gauding suit of azure blue, complemented with touches of white. Her hat was a flowered model, and her corsage was of cream roses.

MISS MARGARET BRACE of Victoria, B.C., who presided, chose a mulberry toned suit with which she wore a black hat trimmed with yellow roses, and a corsage of the same flowers.

Best man was Rodolph G. MacGregor, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were T. H. Grant and W. R. Grant.

Mrs. J. V. Dodds played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Miss Margaret Dodds sang because.

AFTER THE ceremony a reception for about 40 guests was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, 11028 81 avenue. Mrs. Phipps, the bride's aunt, chose a coral crepe ensemble, with brown accessories. Her hat was of brown velvet, and a corsage of gaslands and carnations was pinned to her shoulder.

Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. MacGregor wore a dress of pale blue, with black accessories and hat to tone her corsage was of red roses.

The bride's table was set with a hand made lace cloth and centred by a three-tier wedding cake ivory experts and vases of spring flowers flanked the cake.

ASSISTING IN serving were Mrs. T. H. Grant, Mrs. M. W. Phipps, and the Misses Delores Naimal and Audrey (Cutter) James. Host proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling, the bride added a cherry red top coat and black accessories to her ensemble. The couple will reside in Edmonton.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother Mrs. H. E. Walker of Wabush, Mrs. C. MacKenzie of Wainwright, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jensen and Mr. and Mrs. W. Manley all of Wainwright.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Crockett announced Saturday the engagement of their eldest daughter, Margaret Anita, to James Leslie Townsend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Townsend of Dundee, Scotland. The wedding will take place soon in Edmonton. Mr. Townsend served six years with the RAF, two of which were spent in Canada. Miss Crockett is a TCA stewardess in Toronto.

EDMONTON LIVESTOCK

Stockyard receipts for week: cattle 895, calves 85, hogs 1021, sheep 7.

Trading was active on the Edmonton yards the past week, with prices fully steady on all classes. Receipts were extremely light the forward of the week, with insufficient of normal to meet requirements. At the close however, receipts were about normal due to a partial lifting of the road ban. The bulk of the choice steers sold from 14.25 to 14.50 per cwt with strictly choice steers toppling 14.75. Choice butcher heifers sold mostly from 12.25 to 13.25 and sold one at 13.50. The cow market held firm choice cows selling 10.00 to 10.75 and light heifers kinds up to 11. Bulls were steady trading from 8.50 to 10.75, extreme tops at 11.00.

Stockers and feeders of suitable quality in demand. Choice steers 10 to 11, with short keeps of good breeding 11.50 to 12, plain steers 8.50 to 9.50, stock heifers 8 to 9.50, stock cows 7 to 8.

Veal calves, good to choice handweights 13 to 13.75, choice lights to 14, heavy range calves 9.50 to 12.00, plain and common kinds 8 to 10.

Hogs steady, grade A for shipment 21.25 per cwt., at plant 20.50. Bows live weight 17.50 per cwt. Feeders 14 to 17 according to weight and quality.

Lambs steady, choice handweights 13.50 to 14, off cars 13.50 per cwt., good 12.00 to 12.50, medium 10 to 11, yearlings 6 to 8.50, light ewes 5.50 to 7.50, medium 3.50 to 5. Feeders in very limited demand from 6.50 to 9.75 per cwt.

PACKARD REPORT HAS FACTORY LOSS

DETROIT. — Despite a factory operating loss amounting to $6,539,062, Packard Motor Car Company added $4,835,513 to earned surplus last year, George T. Christopher, president and general manager, disclosed in the annual report for 1946.

For 1946, Packard reported a profit before taxes of $2,898,638 on manufacturing operations and consolidated net earnings of $1,141,933.

The 1946 loss was reduced to a $2,677,936 net profit from operations of branches and sales subsidiary companies, and addition to surplus accomplished by an estimated refund of $5,650,000 in federal taxes on 1944 income, adjustment of $2,900,000 in reserves set aside for wartime operations but no longer required, and fees of $26,627 received from war contracts terminated in 1945.

Reconversion expenditures in 1946 totaled $976,993, of which $662,763 was charged to the reserve provided for war-year earnings. The company made 42,102 cars last year or 63 percent of the 1941 volume.

HALF A LOAF

THE Teenie Weenies were terribly disappointed and the Lady of Fashion was on the verge of tears. It was plain to all the little people that there would be no Easter party this year. Hens' eggs were very high priced and the hens were so independent they were positively nasty. They cackled right in the General's face when he offered 70 grains of corn, 8 grasshoppers (the grasshoppers to be paid in season) and 18 grains of wheat for one egg. That was all the Teenie Weenies could afford to pay, and since no hen in the neighborhood of the Teenie Weenie village would lay an egg for that price, the little folk had to give up the idea of an Easter party. The yearly Teenie Weenie Easter party was one of the big events of the whole neighborhood near the village. The little people always bought a hen's egg, boiled it whole and invited all their small animal and bird friends to help eat it. The Teenie Weenie Cook announced that he had a little dried egg left, but Easter wouldn't be Easter without a fresh egg for the feast.

The Chinaman decided he might be able to do something about getting an egg. The little chap speaks a number of fowl languages and he pleaded with the hens to sell the Teenie Weenies an egg at a reasonable price, but the haughty creatures merely shrugged their wings and walked away. The Chinaman even asked a duck who had always been friendly, but the duck was in the midst of a bilious attack and couldn't think of laying an egg. Finally, the Chinaman decided to ask the birds for an egg.

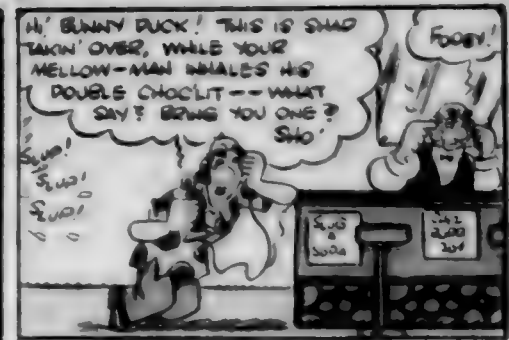

"Half a loaf is better than none," he argued to himself. "We can't have a party, but a bird's egg will be enough for the Teenie Weenies."

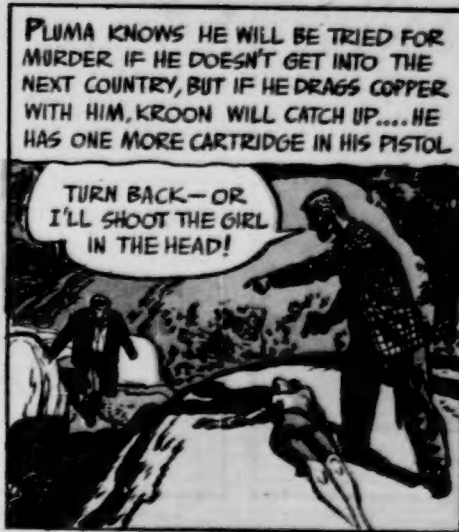

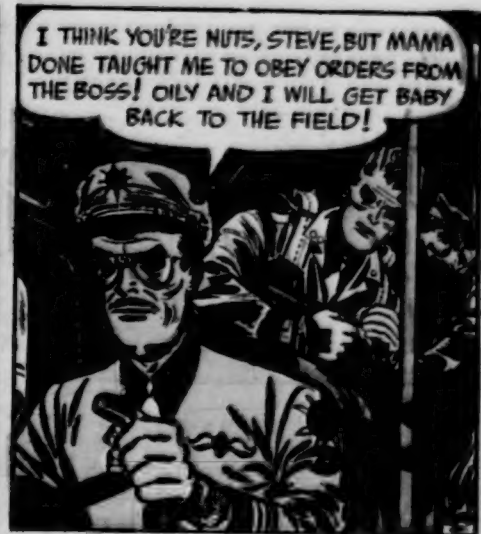

The Chinaman speaks robinese perfectly, and he argued a robin into laying an egg for two fine fat worms. All the little folk were overjoyed with the bargain and they brought out their tiny picks and shovels and went to work digging for worms. They chose a spot back of the Teenie Weenie workshop and after considerable digging they exposed a worm.

The robin caught the worm in its beak and slowly and skillfully pulled it out of the ground, thereby saving the Teenie Weenies considerable digging. It didn't take long to unearth another worm and then the robin promptly retired behind the town hall and laid an egg.

The Cook carried it to the Teenie Weenie kitchen and on Easter it was cooked and served to the little people, who all say that robin eggs are almost as good as chicken eggs.
